

Contents

| | |
|--|---------|
| General editors' preface | page ix |
| Acknowledgments | xiii |
| Introduction | xv |
| The history of the manuscript | xvi |
| The composition of the manuscript | xxiv |
| The place of the manuscript in Kant's work | xxix |
| The development of Kant's argument | xxxviii |
| Note on the selection and translation | xliv |
| Notes to the Introduction | xlviii |
| Bibliography | lvi |
| Editor's note | lviii |
| Kant's Opus postumum | I |
| [Early leaves and Oktaventwurf] | 3 |
| [Toward the elementary system of the moving forces of matter] | 23 |
| [The ether proofs] | 62 |
| [How is physics possible? How is the transition to physics possible?] | 100 |
| [The Selbstsetzungslehre] | 170 |
| [Practical self-positing and the idea of God] | 200 |
| [What is transcendental philosophy?] | 218 |
| Factual notes | 257 |
| Glossary | 289 |
| Concordance | 296 |
| Index | 299 |