

CONTENTS

KEYNOTES PRESENTED IN PLENARY SESSION

Food Safety: The Perceptions and Expectations of the European Public Mary Brennan, Christopher Ritson	7
When students faced rural realities: A rural tourist area to assess the agriculture's evolution and its becoming in "Drôme Provençale" (France) Cécile Crépineau, Cyril Feidt, Marc Benoit, Bernard Amiaud, Yves Le Roux, Séverine Piutti, Stefan Jurjanz	12
The rural environment for the delivery of safe drinking water Pavel Kovář, Jiří Wanner	18
The Public's Expectations Regarding the Green Sector and Responsive Practices in Higher Agricultural Education Martin Mulder, Natalia Ernstman	35
Agriculture and the European public: Agendas, attitudes, and the management of issues Joachim Scholderer	53
What Kind of Countryside do we want: critical reflections from Wales, UK Alister Scott	59
Stakeholder engagement is vital for accountable business – case Stora Enso Oyj Susanna Siira	65

OFFERED PAPERS FOR PARALLEL SESSIONS

Education for sustainable development in the context of teacher training courses at the Czech University of Agriculture Radmila Dytrtová, Jana Dytrtová	69
Facing Current Challenges: A Case Study of Ecological Training within Agricultural Engineering Education Michail Erokhin, Vladimir Popov, Valeriy Chumakov	73
Knowledge arrangements in the green sector: co-creation, circulation and transfer Florentien A. Geerling-Eijff, R. H. Hurkens, T. L. Lans	78
Students' Perceptions of Learning and Teaching in Ukraine and Russia Wilmara Correa Harder, Thomas H. Bruening	84

Can videoconferencing help to rural development? Zdeněk Havlíček, Edita Šilerová, Václav Dvořák, Josef Krotký	90
The Strengthening Agricultural Research in the Field of Alternative Resources Bohumil Havrland, Edmond Aiwa Aiwa, Karel Srnec	94
Perceptions and expectations of the local people in regard to agriculture and agricultural education in Angola Petra Holiková	104
Improving knowledge generation and information transfer in the rural areas Jiří Husa	110
The importance of multi-disciplinarity in education of future agriculture economists - some practical experience Hana Chamoutová, Ludmila Kovářová, L. Kolman	115
The first thing that universities should be doing is to equip students to address societal expectations Kateřina Chamoutová, H. Chýlová	119
Is motivation to learn influenced by cross-cultural differences? Luděk Kolman, Ludmila Kovářová	123
Comparison of public's and CUA student's attitudes towards rural environment Ludmila Kovářová, Hana Chamoutová, P. Natov	127
The Development of Information Skills in relation to Multi-disciplinarity in Teaching and Learning Pavel Krpálek	132
Educational Kit for Continuing Education of Young Farmers Emil Kříž	138
Research in photovoltaic at the CUA in Prague Martin Libra, V. Poulek, P. Bican	143
Class teaching/learning models in projects of internal courses for employees at Mendel University of Agriculture and Forestry in Brno Dana Linhartová, Pavel Máchal	148
A Market Analysis of Terroir Product (Leon Beans) as a part of Rural Development based on Promotion of High Quality Food Products Beatriz Urbano López de Meneses, Fernando González-Andrés, Yuliana Lechuga Jardinez, Pedro Casquero Luelmo	153

The perceptions and demands of the Czech public towards agriculture: reflections of multifunctional agriculture in education Michal Lošťák	157
Public participation in the landscape development decision processes in the Czech Republic Miroslav Martiš, Vladimír Zdražil	163
Education striving for societal change: Master's Program in Sustainable Business Minna Mikkola	165
New ways of diversifying university's activity: Environmental industry Centre of Excellence based on natural resources in Szent István University József Molnár, Vasa László	171
Social competence in relation to subjective feeling of well-being Drahomíra Oudová	177
Developing Students' Professional Competences for decision making by active learning methodology S. Pekić Quarrie, A. Pešikan, V. Poleksić, S. A. Quarrie	184
Forestry and society - conceptual and competence problems and consequences in the Czech Republic Vilém Podrázský	190
Curricular Reform at Serbian Agricultural Faculties: achievements of the TEMPUS JEP towards meeting the needs for rural development V. Poleksić, S. Pekić Quarrie, B. Čupina, D. Petrić, W. Drochner	194
Possibilities of Multimedia Academic Literature in Education of Crop Production Josef Pulkrábek, Anna Vildová, Miluše Štolcová	198
Bringing the entrepreneurial experience into the lecture room at Reading: some observations and their implications Tahir Rehman, Jason Beedell, Julian Park	204
A Study on Consumers' Perception towards Quality Milk and Their Willingness to Pay Incentive Price for Good Quality Milk:-An Analysis from India Biswarup Saha, Jancy Gupta and Sapna Jarial	219
The Role of Consumer in Developing and Activating the Rural Landscape Leena Savisalo	224
Small-scale wood products industry as a rural wealth generator Tapani Savisalo	228

Which paradigms in education for sustainability? Jean Simonneaux	232
The public and agriculture: an educationist view of changing relationships Milan Slavík, Maurice J. Rolls	237
Public Awareness about 'Sustainable Rural Environment' via Higher Education: An 'Elixir' vis-à-vis Ecological Degradation!? Sujeet K. Jha, Sapna Jarial, Pranav K. Singh, Aparna Roy, S. K. Jha	243
Meeting Expectations in Higher Degree Programmes through Education at Distance: a new paradigm for rural sector Ana Alice Vilas Boas, Libera Regina Vitorato Costa Martins, Glória de Jesus Oliveira	246
SEA – an example of public involvement David Vrzal, Vladimír Zdražil	255
Embedding an Ethical Issue in the Curriculum: Lecturers and the Sustainability Agenda Martyn Warren, Debby Cotton, Olya Maiboroda Ian Bailey, Susie Bissell	257
POSTERS
Perceptions regarding methods, strategies and devices used to teach at Moscow State Agroengineering University Wilmara Correa Harder, Thomas Bruening, Valery Chumakov	265
Determination of Tourist Attractiveness and Intensity of Recreational Use of Prague Suburban Forests Ivana Kašparová, Vladimír Zdražil	267
Research in Photovoltaics at the CUA in Prague Martin Libra, Petr Bican, Vladislav Poulek	268
Improving Relations between Higher Education and related Business Sector Přemysl Šedivka, Kamil Vaniš	269
Natural Medicinal and Aromatic Plants and Rural Environment Kenan Turgut	270
Organic Agricultural Production in Turkey H. Ibrahim Uzun, Burhan Ozkan	271
LIST OF PARTICIPANTS	273