

Contents

Acknowledgements

Preface and Acknowledgements

7

Introduction

9

1 Teaching and Learning in Large Groups

13

1 Co-ordinating teaching with large groups

16

2 Lecturing to large groups

18

3 Asking rather than telling

20

4 Providing a frame of reference for learners

22

5 Handling questions from large groups (part 1)

24

6 Handling questions from large groups (part 2)

26

7 Inducting students

28

8 Using the blackboard or markerboard

30

9 Using overhead projectors

32

2 Designing and Using Resources for Teaching and Learning

34

10 Preparing overhead projector transparencies

36

11 Using and designing transparencies

38

12 Designing handouts (part 1)

40

13 Designing handouts (part 2)

42

14 Assembling study guides

44

15 Preparing open learning materials

46

16 Annotated bibliographies

48

17 Using libraries and information sources

50

18 Using e-mail and computer conferencing

52

19 Using multimedia and hypertext

54

3 Independent Study Tasks, Feedback, Groupwork and Assessment

56

20 Setting independent study tasks

58

21 Providing learners with written feedback

60

6 ASSESS YOUR OWN TEACHING QUALITY

22 Giving learners written feedback on marked work	62
23 Giving learners face-to-face feedback	64
24 Helping learners to value groupwork	66
25 Organizing groupwork	68
26 Organizing learners to peer-assess	70
27 Organizing learners in peer-assessment	72
28 Assessing groupwork	74
29 Assessing large groups	76
30 Invigilating fairly and kindly	78

4 Helping Learners Individually 80

31 Getting to know learners' names	82
32 Being a personal tutor (part 1)	84
33 Being a personal tutor (part 2)	86
34 Being available to learners	88
35 Working with learners from overseas	90
36 Helping learners to solve problems	92
37 Supervising projects	94
38 Setting up proctoring	96
39 Negotiating learning agreements	98
40 Giving references for further study and employment	100

5 Personal and Professional Qualities and Skills 102

41 Team teaching	104
42 Being a good collaborative colleague	106
43 Mentoring new colleagues	108
44 Valuing support staff	110
45 Contributing effectively to meetings	112
46 Coping with difficult people	114
47 Dealing with difficult colleagues	116
48 Ensuring effective communication with learners	118
49 Keeping good records	120
50 Equal opportunities	122
51 Continuing to learn about learning	124
52 Identifying personal strengths and weaknesses	126
53 Developing personal scholarship	128
54 Preparing to be appraised	130
55 Planning for future development	132
Taking stock of your teaching and your plans	134

Appendix: The SEDA Scheme 136

Further Reading 138