

Contents

IX INTRODUCTION

Part One BEGINNINGS

ANN SADDLEMYER	3	The Cult of the Celt: Pan-Celticism in the Nineties
ANN SADDLEMYER	6	"The Noble and the Beggar-Man": Yeats and Literary Nationalism
JOAN COLDWELL	24	"The Art of Happy Desire": Yeats and the Little Magazine
DAVID R. CLARK	38	"Metaphors for Poetry": W. B. Yeats and the Occult
GWLADYS V. DOWNES	51	W. B. Yeats and the Tarot

Part Two CREATIONS

ANN SADDLEMYER	57	"The Heroic Discipline of the Looking-Glass": W. B. Yeats's Search for Dramatic Design
ANN SADDLEMYER	74	"Worn Out With Dreams": Dublin's Abbey Theatre
ROBIN SKELTON	103	A Literary Theatre: A Note on English Poetic Drama in the Time of Yeats
LIAM MILLER	111	The Dun Emer and the Cuala Press
JOAN COLDWELL	134	"Images That Yet Fresh Images Beget": A Note on Book-Covers
DAVID R. CLARK	140	Vision and Revision: Yeats's The Countess Cathleen

Part Three CONTEMPORARIES

- | | | |
|----------------|-----|--|
| ANN SADDLEMYER | 161 | Image-Maker for Ireland:
Augusta, Lady Gregory |
| ANN SADDLEMYER | 169 | "All Art is a Collaboration"?
George Moore and Edward Martyn |
| ROBIN SKELTON | 189 | Division and Unity: AE and
W. B. Yeats |
| ROBIN SKELTON | 199 | Aide to Immortality: The Satirical
Writings of Susan L. Mitchell |
| ANN SADDLEMYER | 207 | "A Share in the Dignity of the World":
J. M. Synge's Aesthetic Theory |
| ROBIN SKELTON | 220 | "Unarrangeable Reality":
The Paintings and Writings of
Jack B. Yeats |