

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: Practicing Plenitude

Juliet B. Schor and Craig J. Thompson i

- 1 Artisanal Production, Communal Provisioning, and Anticapitalist Politics in the Aude, France Teresa Gowan and Rachel Slocum 27
- 2 The Social Forms of Local Self-Reliance: Complexities of Community in the Alaskan Transition Movement Karen Hébert 63
- 3 New Cultures of Connection in a Boston Time Bank Emilie A. Dubois, Juliet B. Schor, and Lindsey B. Carfagna 95
- 4 How Community-Supported Agriculture Facilitates Reembedding and Reterritorializing Practices of Sustainable Consumption Craig J. Thompson and Melea Press 125
- 5 Raw Milk Underground: Status and Self-Sufficiency in Agro-Food Networks in the United States and Lithuania Diana Mincyte 148

- 6 Sustainable Pleasure and Pleasurable Sustainability at Chicago's Experimental Station Robert Wengronowitz 176
 - 7 Why the Sustainable Economy Movement Hasn't Scaled: Toward a
Strategy That Empowers Main Street Douglas B. Holt 202
 - 8 Cooperative Networks, Participatory Markets, and Rhizomatic
Resistance: Situating Plenitude within Contemporary Political Economy
Debates Craig J. Thompson and Juliet B. Schor 233
- List of Contributors 251
- Index 255