

Contents

Foreword	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Robert Coles, How children imagine God.....	1
Simon Schama, Life cycles of revolutions.....	9
William Alfred, Literature reveals essential truths.....	16
Derek Bok, Strengths of American universities	23
Sara Lawrence Lightfoot, 1930s odyssey of a black female M.D.	31
Sheldon Glashow, Mysteries of matter	40
Joseph Nye Jr., The myth of America's decline.....	48
William Bennett, Winners and losers in dieting	55
Susan Suleiman, Art, avant-garde, and feminist theory	62
James Anderson, On the depletion of ozone	69
David Hall, Colonial religion and witch hunts	76
Persi Diaconis, The mathematics of randomness	83
Henry Rosovsky, Challenges facing higher education	91
Marjorie Garber, On the sublimity of Shakespeare.....	99
William Graham Jr., Islam, religion for one-seventh of the world..	107
Dudley Herschbach, Ballistics of baseball	114
Gerald Lesser, Big Bird and the child's universe.....	122
Florence Ladd, Establishing women as role models	129
Charles Maier, Historical perspectives on World War II	136
Bill Kovach, The art, business, and craft of journalism	144
Orlando Patterson, The nature of freedom.....	152
Edwin Reischauer, Japan, myths among mysteries	160
Frederick Schauer, Rules and moral behavior.....	167
Mary Karr, The rhyme and meter of life	174
I. Bernard Cohen, History of scientific discovery.....	182
Jerome Kagan, How to parent a happy child	189

Abraham Zaleznik, Help wanted: leaders, not managers	197
Myra Mayman, Art transforms experience	204
E.O. Wilson, Rain forest destruction threatens biodiversity	211
Jan Ziolkowski, The changing concept of friendship	218
Ronald Theimann, The new spirituality in America	225
J. Allan Hobson, To sleep, perchance to dream.....	233
Stephen Williams, Unearthing archaeological myths	241
Alex Kreiger, City and suburban architecture.....	249
Seamus Heaney, Ancient heroes and the poetry of wonder	256