
Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	1
1 'My' Time, 'Our' Time, 'Other' Time	12
Just one moment of 'my' time	12
Cultural expressions of 'our' time: language and clocks	19
Social constructions of 'other' time	29
Key points	42
2 Of Time and Health, Life and Death	43
Body time and well-being	45
Tracking the archetypal time of birthing	48
Clock time is finite	52
Cancer time and the prospect of death	55
Key points	57
3 Education: Learning the Habits of Clock Time	59
Clocks, timetables and schedules	60
The Benedictine heritage	64
Norms, experiences and the joining of life-worlds	66
Research times beyond the clock-time measure	68
Theoretical traditions and challenges	73
Key points	83

4	The Time Economy of Work Relations	84
	Working with rationalized time: clock-time rhythms and their sources	85
	Exchanging commodified time	89
	Clock time mediates complexity	91
	In the shadows of economic time	94
	Efficiency and profit: speed and flexibility	100
	Key points	105
5	Global Times and the Electronic Embrace	107
	Understanding globalization	107
	Two definitions: alternative visions	109
	Clock time standardized and globalized	111
	Global futures	116
	Enlightenment tradition and machine metaphors	119
	Key points	123
6	The Times of Global Environmental Change	125
	Approaches to the environment	125
	Of organic and artefactual time	128
	Running out of time	132
	Everyday life as source for environmental theory	140
	The loss of 'other'	142
	Key points	147
7	The 'Temporal Turn': Mapping the Challenge for Social Science	149
	'Implication' displaces the 'metaphysics of presence'	151
	Relativity beyond discourse	160
	In/visibility outside the materialist episteme	165
	Responsibility in the context of objective science	171
	Coda	176
	References	179
	Index	194