

Contents

Preface and acknowledgments	ix
List of abbreviations	xii
I Introduction	1
1 Wittgenstein's method of analysis: 'I'll teach you differences.'	3
2 Why relations matter	7
3 What is wrong with the internal/external distinction	11
II Prelude	17
4 Hegelianism and British idealism	19
5 Russell and Moore	31
III Wittgenstein's early writings	39
6 Definitions of the internal/external distinction in the early writings	41
7 The doctrine of external relations	49
8 The nature of simple objects	57
9 The picture theory	67
IV Wittgenstein's later writings	81
10 Definitions of the internal/external distinction in the later writings	83
11 Intentionality	103
12 Reason, motive, and cause	117
13 Rules and their applications	133
14 Mathematics	141
15 Colors	153
16 The standard meter	169
17 Aspect-seeing and philosophy of psychology	181
18 Aesthetics and art	191

V	Conclusion	199
19	Internal relations as imperatives	201
20	The maxim of no reflexive uses of internal relations	207
	Notes	213
	Bibliography	251
	Index	259