

Contents

To the student I

- | | | |
|-----------|-----------------------|--|
| 1 | Coincidences | Differences between spoken and written English 5
Requests for further information and for repetition of information 7 |
| 2 | Surprises | Incomplete sentences 12
Expressing surprise and incredulity 12 |
| 3 | Fact and fancy | Tone of voice 18
Identifying, with expressions of doubt and certainty 20 |
| 4 | Research | Interrupting 26
Expressing and reacting to opinions 27 |
| 5 | Smoking | Avoiding rudeness 32
Asking for help and co-operation 33 |
| 6 | Habits | Hesitation 38
Giving advice 39 |
| 7 | House and home | Special stress 44
Expressing likes and preferences 44 |
| 8 | Flats | Fillers 52
Making suggestions 54 |
| 9 | Work | Joining in a conversation 61
Agreeing and disagreeing 61 |
| 10 | Strike | Intonation in parenthetical phrases 67
Making complaints and apologies 69 |
| 11 | Men and women | Deviations from 'standard English' 75
Encouraging people to speak 76 |
| 12 | Just women | Native-speaker errors 82
Requests and commands 83 |
| 13 | Youth | Avoiding being misunderstood 89
Offering, accepting and refusing 91 |

14	Age	Lack of precision in informal conversation 98 Assuring and reassuring 98
15	Advertising	Neologisms 108 Correcting people 109
16	Television	Changing speech styles 115 Prohibition 116
17	Holidays	Presuppositions 122 Warnings 123
18	Transport	Elision and assimilation 129 Giving directions 130
19	Students	Speech features (revision) 136 Conversation links 137
20	People	Individual speech styles 140 Criticising 141
	Appendix	144