

CONTENTS

Abbreviations	vii
Introduction: Utopia, Terror, and Everyday Experience in the Ustasha State Rory Yeomans	1
Part One: Terror as Everyday Experience, Economic System, and Social Practice
1 Anti-Semitism and Economic Regeneration: The Ustasha Regime and the Nationalization of Jewish Property and Business in Sarajevo Dallas Michelbacher	43
2 Ordinary People, Extraordinary Times: Everyday Life in Karlovac under Ustasha Rule Filip Erdeljac	61
3 The Engine Room of a New Ustasha Consciousness: Cinema, Terror, and Ideological Refashioning Rory Yeomans	86
4 Honor, Shame, and Warrior Values: The Anthropology of Ustasha Violence Radu Harald Dinu	119
Part Two: Incarnating a New Religion, National Values, and Youth
5 Apostles, Saints' Days, and Mass Mobilization: The Sacralization of Politics in the Ustasha State Stipe Kljaić	145
6 Between the Racial State and the Christian Rampart: Ustasha Ideology, Catholic Values, and National Purification Irina Ognyanova	165

- 7 Envisioning the “Other” East: Bosnia-Herzegovina, Muslims, and Modernization in the Ustasha State 188
Nada Kisić-Kolanović
- 8 “To Be Eternally Young Means to Be an Ustasha”: Youth Organizations as Incubators of a New Youth and New Future 217
Goran Miljan

Part Three: Terror, Utopia, and the Ustasha State in Comparative Perspective

- 9 Forging Brotherhood and Unity: War Propaganda and Transitional Justice in Yugoslavia, 1941–48 241
Tomislav Dulčić
- 10 Recontextualizing the Fascist Precedent: The Ustasha Movement and the Transnational Dynamics of Interwar Fascism 260
Aristotle Kallis
- Epilogue: Ordinary People between the National Community and Everyday Terror 284
Rory Yeomans
- Appendix: The Origins and Ideology of the Ustasha Movement 300
- List of Contributors 305
- Index 309