
Contents

Tables and Figures	xiii
Abbreviations	xvii
Foreword Anastasia Posadskaya-Vanderbeck	xxi
Preface Henry P. David	xxiii
PART I: INTRODUCTION	1
1. Overview Henry P. David	3
Introduction	3
Country Chapters	4
Resources	5
From Demography to Reproductive Health	6
Decision Making	6
Abortion Policies	7
Contraception	8
Reported Abortion Rates and Ratios	9
Postabortion Psychological Responses	18
Pronatalist Incentives	19
Sexuality Education and Gender Roles	20

Health Professionals	20
Future Perspectives	21
2. Understanding the "Abortion Culture" in Central and Eastern Europe	23
Libor Stloukal
Editor's Introduction	23
Introduction	24
Social Policies	24
Institutional Adjustments (and Nonadjustments)	27
Behavioral Adjustments and Social Values	30
Future Perspectives	34
3. The Woman Question	39
Henry P. David and Joanna Skilogianis
Introduction	39
An Early Socialist Perspective	39
The Bolshevik Revolution	41
Rhetoric and Reality	42
Postsocialist Transitions	45
Gender Issues and Feminism	46
Concluding Comments	47
PART II: COUNTRY REPORTS	49
4. Albania	51
Amilda Dymi and Pamela Pine
Editor's Introduction	51
Historical Trends	52
Population Policy	53
The Woman Question	56
Abortion and Contraception	61
Sex and Society	65
Future Perspectives	66
5. Bulgaria	69
Dimiter Vassilev
Editor's Introduction	69
Demographic Trends	70
Interaction of Abortion and Pronatalist Policies	75
Contraception	83
The Woman Question	85

Sex and Society	86
Future Perspectives	89
6. Czech Republic and Slovak Republic	91
Vladimír Wynnyczuk and Radim Uzel
Editor's Introduction	91
Historical and Demographic Trends	92
Family and Public Policies	101
The Woman Question	103
Fertility Planning	105
Fertility-Regulating Behavior	106
Abortion	108
Sex and Society	115
Future Perspectives	117
7. The Former German Democratic Republic	121
Jürgen Dorbritz and Jochen Fleischhacker
Editor's Introduction	121
Historical Trends and Population Policy	122
The Woman Question	123
Pronatalist Policies	124
Abortion and Contraception	133
Contraception in the GDR	137
Sexuality Education	138
Adolescent Reproductive Behavior	139
Postreunification Trends	140
Future Perspectives	143
8. Hungary	145
Henry P. David
Editor's Introduction	145
Demographic Trends	146
Pronatalist Policies	147
Abortion Policies	151
Abortion-Related Demographic Research	155
Contraceptive Practice	158
Planned and Actual Fertility	159
Social Differences in Family Planning and Fertility	160
The Woman Question	161
Sex and Society	163
Future Perspectives	164

9. Poland	165
Anna Titkow
Editor's Introduction	165
Demographic Trends	166
Abortion—Facts and Politics	167
Contraception	179
The Woman Question	182
Sex and Society	186
Future Perspectives	189
10. Romania	191
Adriana Baban
Editor's Introduction	191
Historical Trends	192
Population and Abortion Policies: Public Policy and Private Behavior	196
Demographic and Health Effects	201
Fertility Planning	209
Contraceptive Practice	210
The Woman Question	213
Sex and Society	217
Future Perspectives	220
11. Russian Federation and USSR Successor States	223
Andrej A. Popov and Henry P. David
Editor's Introduction	223
Population Policy	225
Demographic Trends, Policies, and Public Health	226
Abortion	236
Abortion Registration and Surveys	242
Contraception/Abortion	247
The Woman Question	250
Sex and Society	252
Future Perspectives	258
Notes on Other USSR Successor States	258
12. Former Yugoslavia and Successor States	279
Nila Kapor-Stanulovic and Henry P. David
Editor's Introduction	279
Demographic Trends	282
Abortion	296

Contraception	303
Abortion/Contraception	304
Population Policies and Family Allowances	306
The Woman Question	308
Sex and Society	311
Future Perspectives	314
References	317
Index	375
About the Contributors	381