

CONTENTS

List of figures vii

List of tables ix

List of contributors xi

Preface xv

Acknowledgements xvii

- 1 Introduction: what is language? What is linguistics?
LIZ MORRISH 1
- 2 Phonetics
PATRICIA ASHBY 24
- 3 Phonology
S. J. HANNAHS 56
- 4 Morphology
HANS-JÖRG SCHMID 77
- 5 Grammar
ROGER BERRY 111
- 6 Syntax
KLAUS ABELS 137
- 7 Semantics
JOHN SAEED 168
- 8 Pragmatics
LOUISE CUMMINGS 194
- 9 Discourse analysis
CARMEN ROSA CALDAS-COULTHARD 219
- 10 Historical linguistics
JONATHAN CULPEPER AND DAN MCINTYRE 245
- 11 Sociolinguistics
NATALIE BRABER 274

- 12 Child language acquisition
HELEN GOODLUCK 299
- 13 Psycholinguistics
JOHN FIELD 324
- 14 Clinical linguistics
LOUISE CUMMINGS 353
- 15 Language and ideology
LESLEY JEFFRIES 379
- 16 Media discourse
PHILIPPA SMITH AND ALLAN BELL 406
- 17 Literary linguistics
MICHAEL BURKE 431

Glossary 461

Index 483

FIGURES

- 2.1 Cartilages of the larynx (adapted from G. J. Romanes, Cunningham's Manual of Practical Anatomy, vol. 3: Head and Neck and Brain, Oxford University Press) 27
- 2.2 The vocal folds and larynx waveform (from Laryngograph Ltd) 28
- 2.3 Schematic view of the larynx 28
- 2.4 Active and passive articulators 30
- 2.5 Positions of the velum 32
- 2.6 Vocal tract diagrams 33
- 2.7 Speech waveform and spectrogram 34
- 2.8 A vowel quadrilateral 38
- 2.9 Vowel diagram showing resonances 39
- 2.10 An interlinear diagram 44
- 4.1 The scope of morphology and word-formation (adapted from Schmid: 2011: 15) 79
- 4.2 Rules of allomorphy illustrated for the English plural morpheme 84
- 4.3 Comparing the morphological structures of unemployment and disappointment 87
- 4.4 Illustration of description in terms of morphological form and structure: trade union leader 88
- 4.5 Survey of basic word-formation patterns in English 90
- 5.1 Tree diagram of a noun phrase 120
- 9.1 Halliday's context of situation and culture 221
- 9.2 Relationship of forms of discourse to face, ideologies and socialization 222
- 11.1 Social and regional dialect variation (adapted from Trudgill 2000: 30) 278
- 11.2 Postvocalic [r] in the UK and Ireland (adapted from Hughes, Trudgill and Watt 2012: 64) 279
- 11.3 House of Commons document (reproduced with permission from Pamela Nash, MP) 293
- 13.1 Network of associations for the word PLANE (Field 2005) 329
- 13.2 Simplified model of language production 335
- 13.3 Sample of keystroke logging (Field 2005) 338
- 13.4 Simplified model of language reception 339
- 13.5 Eye tracking data (adapted from Pollatsek, Ashby and Clifton 2012: 94) 342
- 14.1 The human communication cycle (Cummings 2008) 355
- 14.2 Cleft lip and nose (reprinted with permission from the Cleft Palate Foundation, www.cleftline.org) 361

- 14.3 Unilateral and bilateral cleft lip and palate (reprinted with permission from the Cleft Palate Foundation, www.cleftline.org) 362
- 14.4 Pre- and post-operative unilateral and bilateral cleft lip (Sargent 1999; repinted with permission from the author) 363
- 14.5 Four laryngectomy diagrams (reprinted with permission from InHealth Technologies, www.inhealth.com) 372
- 15.1 The main strands of human linguistic behaviour 387
- 16.1 Fairclough's three-dimensional framework 414
- 16.2 Home page of The Telegraph (repinted with permission from Telegraph Media Group Ltd 2014) 415
- 16.3 A screenshot from The Telegraph (reprinted with permission from Telegraph Media Group Ltd 2014) 416
- 17.1 Shift in meaning making from formalism to functionalism 434
- 17.2 Main theoretical influences on literary linguistics 435
- 17.3 Linguistic levels of foregrounding 440

TABLES

| | | |
|------|--|-----|
| 4.1 | A cross-classification of types of morphemes | 80 |
| 4.2 | Inflectional morphemes in present-day English | 83 |
| 4.3 | Extract of the system of German plural allomorphy | 85 |
| 4.4 | Illustrating the analysis in terms of morphological form | 87 |
| 4.5 | Most frequent and productive types of compounds in terms of morphological form | 91 |
| 4.6 | Survey of types of compounds differentiated by internal morphological and semantic structure | 92 |
| 4.7 | Frequent semantic relations in root compounds | 93 |
| 4.8 | Frequent types of prefixes (from Quirk et al. 1985) | 95 |
| 4.9 | Frequent types of suffixes (from Quirk et al. 1985) | 98 |
| 4.10 | Frequent patterns of conversion | 101 |
| 9.1 | Summary of Longacre's model (adapted from Longacre 1983) | 225 |
| 10.1 | Raising of the long vowels during the Great Vowel Shift | 255 |
| 10.2 | Language families (from www.ancient-scripts.com/hl_families.html) | 266 |
| 15.1 | Model of transitivity (adapted from Simpson 1993) | 390 |
| 17.1 | Jakobson's six basic functions of any communicative act | 433 |
| 17.2 | Jakobson's six associative functions of language | 434 |
| 17.3 | The linguistic levels of analysis | 439 |
| 17.4 | A scanned line of poetry in iambic pentameter | 443 |