

Table of Contents

v	Introduction Laura B. Cohen
1	Chapter 1. Discovering Places to Serve Patrons in the Long Tail Patrick Griffiths, Kristin Costello, Darcy Del Bosque, Cory Lampert, and Eva Stowers
16	Chapter 2. Chat, Commons, and Collaboration: Inadvertently Library 2.0 in Western Australia Kathryn Greenhill, Margaret Jones, and Jean McKay
30	Chapter 3. Yale: Taking the Library to Users in the Online University Environment Kalee Sprague, Roy Lechich
45	Chapter 4. Delivering Targeted Library Resources into a Blackboard Framework Richard Cox
58	Chapter 5. Adapting an Open Source, Scholarly Web 2.0 System for Findability in Library Collections Bethany Nowviskie, Elizabeth Sadler, and Erik Hatcher
73	Chapter 6. Push and Pull of the OPAC Daniel Forsman
85	Chapter 7. UThink: Library Hosted Blogs for a University-Wide Community Shane Nakerud
100	Chapter 8. Discussing Student Engagement: An Information Literacy Course Blog Gregory Bobish
114	Chapter 9. Building Library 2.0 into Information Literacy: A Case Study Susan Sharpless Smith, Erik Mitchell, and Caroline Numbers
133	Chapter 10. IMplementing IM @ Reference: The GW Experience Deborah B. Gaspar, Sarah Palacios Wilhelm
145	Chapter 11. Taking the Library to Users: Experimenting with Facebook as an Outreach Tool Dawn Lawson
156	Chapter 12. YouTube University: Using XML, Web Services, and Online Video Services to Serve University and Library Video Content Jason A. Clark