

Contents

Editors and contributors	xiii
Acknowledgements	xxiii

1 Introduction: challenging ideas Tricia David and Sacha Powell	1
---	---

PART I

Philosophers and their philosophies of early childhood education and care 9

2 Constructions of nature and emerging ideas in children's education and care: the 1600s to 1900 Yordanka Valkanova	11
3 Friedrich Froebel Tina Bruce	19
4 Maria Montessori Patricia Giardiello	26
5 Rachel and Margaret McMillan: practice and politics Cathy Nutbrown and Peter Clough	37
6 John Dewey Joop Berding	49

PART II

Theorists and their theories 57

7 The long view: evolutionary theories of early childhood education and care Adam Howell Boyette	59
--	----

8	Psychoanalytic theory, emotion and early years practice Peter Elfer	69
9	The legacy of John Bowlby's Attachment Theory Jools Page	80
10	Exploring young minds Tricia David	91
11	Theories of language development Kathy Goouch	100
12	Theories about young children's peer relationships Elly Singer	110
13	Theories of morality in early childhood Hsing-Chiung Lin	119
14	From theories of play to playing with theory Sue Rogers	128
15	Theory of mind Stephen Tyler	138
16	Using postcolonial theory to critically re-frame the child development narrative Amita Gupta	147
17	Postmodernist theorizing in ECEC: making the familiar strange in pursuit of social justice Jayne Osgood	157
18	Dialogic space theory Andrew Lambirth	165
PART III
Influences of philosophies and theories on research, policy and practice		177
19	Human rights and children's rights Diana Strauss and Sacha Powell	179
20	Positivist scientific exploration: can universal truths and grand narratives be discovered in research about human beings? Sarah Christie	189

21	The rise of neuroscientific discourse in early childhood Kathy Hall and Alicia Curtin	200
22	The legacy of Vygotsky's cultural-historical methodology and its impact on contemporary early childhood research Marilyn Fleer	209
23	Narrative inquiry in early childhood education: pursuing the promise Travis S. Wright and Elizabeth E. Blair	219
24	Bronfenbrenner and the ecology of human development Nancy Darling	234
25	Reflection on one's practice: research about theories espoused by practitioners – the grand and the personal Andrea Nolan and Bridie Raban	246
PART IV
Inspirations: philosophies and theories in action		257
26	Pedagogy of care for well-being Mary Benson McMullen, Cary Buzzelli and Na Ra Yun	259
27	Inclusion: perspectives from South America Malva Villalón and María Jesús Viviani	269
28	Towards a creativity-rich curriculum for the well-being of children three to seven years old Jonathan Barnes	278
29	Philosophy with young children Christopher Gilmore	290
30	The long history and continuing development of ECEC provision in Sweden and Norway Peder Haug	298
31	Reggio Emilia Rosaleen Murphy, Anna Ridgway, Maura Cunneen and Mary Horgan	306

32	Te Whāriki: a uniquely woven curriculum shaping policy, pedagogy and practice in Aotearoa New Zealand Helen May and Margaret Carr	316
	Epilogue Kathy Goouch and Sacha Powell	327
	Index	331