

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	1
Part I Global Politics
1 Chasing the Elusive Society	25
The managerial imagination * The collapse of social engineering * Surfing the network * Society? Difficult to imagine * Will the dead rise?
2 The Great Separation Mark Two	52
Aristotelian meditations * Politics as critique and a project * The modern state as institutionalized critique * The price of emancipation * Big Brother's new avatar * At the receiving end of the New Big Brother's calls * Uncertainty: the prime root of political inhibition * The second secession * The prospects of global politics
3 Living and Dying in the Planetary Frontier-land	87
Global frontier-land * Reconnaissance battles * Asymmetrical wars * War as a vocation * Living together in a full world * Refugees in a full world

Part II Life Politics

4	(Un)Happiness of Uncertain Pleasures	121
	Senecan meditations, or happiness as eternal life ♦ Happiness as everybody's option ♦ Happiness: from reward to right ♦ Waiting for happiness ♦ Satisfactions in search of needs ♦ Desires shunning satisfaction ♦ Neither having nor being ♦ Happiness of (disposable) bonds
5	As Seen on TV	158
	Speed versus slowness ♦ Private versus public ♦ Authority versus idolatry ♦ Event versus policy
6	Consuming Life	180
	Consumers and consumer society ♦ Needing, desiring, wishing ♦ The reality principle and the pleasure principle strike a deal ♦ Holism made fallacy ♦ Choosing reassurance, reassuring choice ♦ Feeding uncertainty, feeding on uncertainty
7	From Bystander to Actor	201
	Being a bystander in a world of global dependency ♦ Excursus: What can we learn from the story of 'animal rights'? ♦ On the difficulty of becoming the one who acts ♦ Chasing the 'political moment' in the globalized world
	Conclusion: Utopia with No Topos	222
	The sedentary imagination ♦ The transfixing imagination ♦ The nomadic imagination ♦ The disengaged imagination ♦ Imagination privatized
	Notes	242
	Index	253