
Contents

Introduction by Paul Kurtz	xi
The Sources of a Science of Education	1
Individualism, Old and New	41
1. The House Divided against Itself	45
2. "America"—By Formula	50
3. The United States, Incorporated	58
4. The Lost Individual	66
5. Toward a New Individualism	77
6. Capitalistic or Public Socialism?	90
7. The Crisis in Culture	99
8. Individuality in Our Day	111
Construction and Criticism	125
ESSAYS	145
From Absolutism to Experimentalism	147
Philosophy	161
James Marsh and American Philosophy	178
The Sphere of Application of the Excluded Middle	197
The Applicability of Logic to Existence	203
In Reply to Some Criticisms	210

Conduct and Experience	218
Psychology and Work	236
Qualitative Thought	243
What Humanism Means to Me	263
What I Believe	267
Three Independent Factors in Morals	279
Philosophy and Education	289
General Principles of Educational Articulation	299
Our Illiteracy Problem	311
How Much Freedom in New Schools?	319
The Duties and Responsibilities of the Teaching Profession	326
Freedom in Workers' Education	331
Labor Politics and Labor Education	338
What Do Liberals Want?	346
Apostles of World Unity: XVII—Salmon O. Levinson	349
Religion in the Soviet Union: II—An Interpretation of the Conflict	355
Social Change and Its Human Direction	363
REVIEWS	369
The School and Society. Review of George S. Counts's School and Society in Chicago	371
An Organic Universe. Review of Alfred N. Whitehead's Process and Reality	375
The Course of Modern History. Review of Harry Elmer Barnes's World Politics in Modern Civilization	382

MISCELLANY	385
Dr. Dewey and Mr. Woll by Matthew Woll	387
Reply to Woll	389
The Sportsmanship Brotherhood by Daniel Chase	390
Mr. Woll as a Communist-Catcher	392
Letter to University of Michigan School of Education	393
Juvenile Reading	394
Understanding and Prejudice	396
Foreword to Helen Edna Davis's Tolstoy and Nietzsche	398
Foreword to Eastern Commercial Teachers' Association First Yearbook, Foundation of Commercial Education	401
Introduction to Henry Evelyn Bliss's The Organization of Knowledge and the System of the Sciences	404
Introduction to Maurice Hindus's Humanity Uprooted	407
Foreword to Fischel Schneerson's Studies in Psycho-Expedition	410
Introduction to Training for Group Experience , ed. Alfred Dwight Sheffield	412
Censorship	417
In Response	418
Tribute to James H. Tufts	424
REPORTS	427
Lobby Inquiry Opens Tomorrow	429

Attacks Wage Disparity	431
Child Relief Steps Urged on Congress	432
Asks Federal Fund to Aid Unemployed	434
Asks Hoover to Act on Unemployment	436
Puts Needs of Idle at Two Billions	439
People's Lobby Hits Sugar Loan to Cuba	440
John Dewey Assails the Major Parties	442
Dewey Supports Vladeck	443
Dewey Asks Norris to Lead New Party	444
Dewey for Farm Backing	447
APPENDIXES	451
1. Can Logic Be Divorced from Ontology? by Ernest Nagel	453
2. Action and Certainty by William Ernest Hocking	461
3. Pragmatism and Current Thought by C. I. Lewis	477
4. Experience and Dialectic by Frederick J. E. Woodbridge	487
5. Three Independent Factors in Morals: Introductory Remarks and Discussion	496
6. Insurgents Back Norris in Refusing to Quit Republicans	504
NOTES	506
TEXTUAL APPARATUS	507
Textual Notes	509
Textual Commentary	511

Emendations List	529
Alterations in Typescripts	572
Line-end Hyphenation	583
Substantive Variants in Quotations	585
Checklist of Dewey's References	591
INDEX	599