

Contents

List of Figures	xxi
List of Tables	xxii
List of Appendices	xxv
Notes on Contributors	xxvi
1. Introduction: Intermediation, Information, and Electoral Politics Richard Gunther, José Ramón Montero, and Hans-Jürgen Puhle	1
2. Democracy and Intermediation: Some Attitudinal and Behavioural Dimensions Richard Gunther, José Ramón Montero, and Mariano Torcal	29
3. The Mass Media in Third-Wave Democracies: Gravediggers or Seedsmen of Democratic Consolidation? Rüdiger Schmitt-Beck and Katrin Voltmer	75
4. Intermediation Through Secondary Associations: The Organizational Context of Electoral Behaviour Paolo Bellucci, Marco Maraffi, and Paolo Segatti	135
5. The Flow of Political Information: Personal Discussants, the Media, and Partisans Bradley Richardson and Paul Allen Beck	183
6. Voting and Intermediation: Informational Biases and Electoral Choices in Comparative Perspective Pedro C. Magalhães	208
7. Value Cleavages and Partisan Conflict Richard Gunther and Kuan Hsin-chi	255

8. Conclusions: Processes of Intermediation, Electoral Politics, and Political Support in Old and New Democracies	321
Hans-Jürgen Puhle, José Ramón Montero, and Richard Gunther
Notes	346
References	368
Index	395