

Contents

FOREWORD	ix
... only that, Mr. Sage. You have to understand... ... so that your ideas go in a specific direction... the ... relationship between the company and the new employee must
1. MAKING OTHERS DO SOMETHING	1
... the job application...
2. JOYFUL AUTO-MOBILES (EMPLOYEES: HOW TO PULL THEIR LEGS)	49
... have souls, which is surely... ... news in the world...
3. DOMINATION, LIBERATION	105

BIBLIOGRAPHY	163
... men would rule securely and there would ... be no oppressive governments. For all men would live accord- ... in the minds of those who govern them and would... ... true or false, or good or bad, in accordance with their ... alone. But... it is impossible for one person's mind to be ... absolutely under another's control. For no one can transfer to ... another person his neural right, or ability, to think freely and ... make his own judgments about any matter whatsoever, and ... cannot be compelled to do so. This is why a government which ... seeks to control people's minds is considered oppressive... Spinoza, Theological-Political Treatise
INDEX	167