
Contents

List of tables	xi
Acknowledgements	xii
Notes on contributors	xiv
Foreword	xvi
DEREK ROBBINS
1 Introduction: the development of Bourdieu's intellectual heritage in UK sociology	1
CIARAN BURKE, JENNY THATCHER, NICOLA INGRAM AND JESSIE ABRAHAM
2 Bourdieu's theory of practice: maintaining the role of capital	8
CIARAN BURKE
3 Narrative, ethnography and class inequality: taking Bourdieu into a British council estate	25
LISA MCKENZIE
4 Re-interpreting Bourdieu, belonging and Black identities: exploring 'Black' cultural capital among Black Caribbean youth in London	37
DERRON O. WALLACE
5 'It's like if you don't go to Uni you fail in life': the relationship between girls' educational choices and the forms of capital	55
TAMSIN BOWERS-BROWN
6 Using Bourdieusian scholarship to understand the body: habitus, hexis and embodied cultural capital	73
LINDSEY GARRATT

7	Migrating habitus: a comparative case study of Polish and South African migrants in the UK	88
	JENNY THATCHER AND KRISTOFFER HALVORSRUD
8	The limits of capital gains: using Bourdieu to understand social mobility into elite occupations	107
	SAM FRIEDMAN
9	Unresolved reflections: Bourdieu, haunting and struggling with ghosts	123
	KIRSTY MORRIN
10	Stepping outside of oneself: how a cleft-habitus can lead to greater reflexivity through occupying 'the third space'	140
	NICOLA INGRAM AND JESSIE ABRAHAMS
11	Conclusion: Bourdieu – the next generation	157
	JESSIE ABRAHAMS, NICOLA INGRAM, JENNY THATCHER AND CIARAN BURKE

Index	165
--------------	-----