CONTENTS

Introduction: Content Analysis and Political Texts 1
Ian Budge and Judith Bara

PART I

POLICY SPACES, PREFERENCES AND TEXTS

1. Finally! Comparative over-time mapping of party policy movement 19
Ian Budge and Hans-Dieter Klingemann
2. Manifesto-based research: A critical review 51
Ian Budge and Judith Bara
3. Theory and measurement of party policy positions 75
Ian Budge

PART II

MEASUREMENT PROCEDURES AND CHECKS

4. Quantifying the election programmes: Coding procedures and controls 93
Andrea Volkens
5. Checking the party policy estimates: Reliability 111
Derek J. Hearl
6. Checking the party policy estimates: Convergent validity 127
Michael D. McDonald and Silvia M. Mendes
7. Using manifesto estimates to validate computerized analyses 143
Judith Bara
8. Extending party estimates to governments and electors 157
Hee-Min Kim and Richard C. Fording
9. Approaching the data 179
Eric Tanenbaum

Appendix I. Political parties included in the data set 193
Appendix II. Manifesto coding instructions 215
Appendix III. Description of manifesto data set 219
Appendix IV. Missing party documents 229
Appendix V. Mean percentage scores for parties on four policy stands 233
Appendix VI. Description of Government declaration data 245

Bibliography of manifesto-based research 251
General bibliography 255
Bibliography of electoral data sources 265
Index 269