

Contents

List of Illustrative Material	viii
Acknowledgements	x
List of Abbreviations	xi
Introduction	1
1 Why Compare Public Policies?	5
Is comparative research a separate field of enquiry?	8
Comparative public policy in historical perspective	10
Defining comparative public policy research	13
Comparing public policies in an interconnected world	19
2 Differences between Public Policies: An Introduction	21
Public policy resources	22
How governments act: policy instruments	23
Trends in the use of policy instruments	36
The scope of public policies	39
Conclusion	46
3 Economic Policy	49
The context: theories of economic policy development	50
Comparing economic policies across nations	65
The scope of economic policy	79
Conclusion	80
4 Welfare Policy	83
The context: theories of welfare policy development	84
Theories of systematic difference across nations	85
Comparing welfare policies across nations	90
Governments and occupational and voluntary welfare	106
The scope of welfare policy	107
Conclusion	110
5 Health Policy	113
The context: theories of health policy development	114
Comparing health care policies across nations	120
The scope of health policy	131
Conclusion	132

6	Education Policy	135
	The context: theories of education policy development	136
	International pressures	140
	Comparing education policies across nations	143
	The scope of education policy	157
	Conclusion	158
7	Environmental Policy	161
	The context: theories of environmental policy development	163
	Theories of systematic difference across nations	165
	International pressures	170
	Comparing environmental policies across nations	173
	The voluntary and private sectors and environmental policy	185
	The scope of environmental policy	186
	Conclusion	187
8	Interests and Public Policy	189
	What are interests?	189
	Interest-based approaches to explaining public policy	190
	Problems with interest-based accounts	207
	Conclusion	211
9	Ideas and Public Policy	213
	What are ideas?	213
	Ideas-based approaches to explaining public policy	214
	Attempts to synthesize different approaches	220
	When do ideas change?	227
	Conclusion	229
10	Institutions and Public Policy	231
	What are institutions?	232
	Institution-based approaches to explaining public policy	233
	Conclusion	247
11	Policy Transfer and Learning	249
	Why are policies imposed, taught and learned?	250
	Policy transfer	251
	Policy learning	254
	Identifying policy transfer and learning	265
	Conclusion	267

12	Policy-Making beyond the Nation State	269
	Defining globalization and Europeanization	270
	Capital and trade flows	271
	The increasing transnationalization of business	272
	The impact of capital and trade flows and the increasing transnationalization of business	273
	Flows of people and information	279
	International governing institutions	284
	Global trends and their impact	292
	Conclusion	294
13	Comparative Public Policy: A Minority World Pursuit?	297
	Comparative public policy: excluding the Majority World?	299
	Majority World analytical approaches	305
	Conclusion	313
14	Doing Comparative Public Policy	315
	Choices in comparative research	316
	Challenges for comparative public policy research	325
	The practicalities of comparative research	339
	Conclusion	342
	References	345
	Index	383