Chapter 1

Toward a Model of Strategic Discourse Processing

|                               |    |
|-------------------------------|----|
| 1.1. THE STUDY OF DISCOURSE   | 1  |
| 1.2. BASIC ASSUMPTIONS        | 4  |
| 1.3. AN OVERVIEW OF THE MODEL | 10 |
| 1.4. CONCLUSIONS              | 19 |

Chapter 2

Observations on the Status of Experimental Research on Discourse Comprehension

|                                                           |    |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|----|
| 2.1. PERCEPTUAL PROCESSES: LETTER AND WORD IDENTIFICATION | 21 |
| 2.2. SYNTACTIC-SEMANTIC PARSING                           | 27 |
| 2.3. AMBIGUITY                                            | 33 |
| 2.4. SEMANTIC UNITS: PROPOSITIONS                         | 37 |
| 2.5. COHERENCE                                            | 43 |
| 2.6. KNOWLEDGE STRUCTURES                                 | 46 |
| 2.7. INFERENCES                                           | 49 |
| 2.8. MACROSTRUCTURES                                      | 52 |
| 2.9. SCHEMATIC SUPERSTRUCTURES                            | 54 |
| 2.10. OUTLOOK                                             | 59 |

*Chapter 3The Notion of Strategy in Language and Discourse Understanding

|      |                                             |    |
|------|---------------------------------------------|----|
| 3.1. | INTRODUCTION                                | 61 |
| 3.2. | THE NOTION OF STRATEGY                      | 62 |
| 3.3. | COGNITIVE STRATEGIES                        | 68 |
| 3.4. | LANGUAGE STRATEGIES                         | 70 |
| 3.5. | GRAMMATICAL STRATEGIES                      | 73 |
| 3.6. | DISCOURSE STRATEGIES                        | 78 |
| 3.7. | THE REPRESENTATION OF STRATEGIES            | 95 |
| 3.8. | A SAMPLE ANALYSIS: THE NEWSWEEK TEXT | 98 |

*Chapter 4Propositional Strategies

|      |                                                   |     |
|------|---------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 4.1. | PROPOSITIONS                                      | 109 |
| 4.2. | COMPLEX PROPOSITIONS                              | 119 |
| 4.3. | PROPOSITIONS AS COGNITIVE UNITS AND AS STRATEGIES | 124 |
| 4.4. | A SAMPLE ANALYSIS OF THE NEWSWEEK TEXT     | 134 |
| 4.5. | EXPERIMENT 1: PROPOSITION FUSION                  | 144 |

*Chapter 5Local Coherence Strategies

|      |                                                |     |
|------|------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 5.1. | LOCAL COHERENCE                                | 149 |
| 5.2. | UNDERSTANDING SENTENCES                        | 151 |
| 5.3. | LOCAL COHERENCE STRATEGIES                     | 154 |
| 5.4. | TOPICALITY AND STRATEGIC PRONOUN UNDERSTANDING | 160 |
| 5.5. | EXPERIMENT 2: PRONOUN IDENTIFICATION           | 172 |
| 5.6. | ANALYSIS OF THE NEWSWEEK TEXT           | 182 |

*Chapter 6Macrostrategies

|      |                                                                           |     |
|------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 6.1. | THE NOTION OF MACROSTRUCTURE                                              | 189 |
| 6.2. | MACROSTRUCTURES AND DISCOURSE UNDERSTANDING                               | 191 |
| 6.3. | CONTEXTUAL MACROSTRATEGIES                                                | 196 |
| 6.4. | TEXTUAL MACROSTRATEGIES                                                   | 201 |
| 6.5. | MACROSTRATEGIES IN ACTION: SOME EXAMPLES                                  | 206 |
| 6.6. | EXPERIMENT 3: INTEREST AND LEVEL OF DESCRIPTIONAS MACROSTRUCTURE CUES | 222 |
| 6.7. | EXPERIMENT 4: PRIMING MACROPROPOSITIONS                                   | 226 |

*Chapter 7Schematic Strategies

|      |                                                |     |
|------|------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 7.1. | SUPERSTRUCTURES                                | 235 |
| 7.2. | SCHEMATIC STRATEGIES                           | 237 |
| 7.3. | SCHEMATIC ANALYSIS OF THE NEWSWEEK TEXT | 242 |

|                                                                              |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 7.4. PREDICTIONS AND IMPLICATIONS OF THE THEORY OF SCHEMATIC SUPERSTRUCTURES | 251 |
| 7.5. EXPERIMENT 5: THE ROLE OF RHETORICAL STRUCTURE IN DESCRIPTIVE TEXTS     | 253 |

Chapter 8 Production Strategies

|                                                              |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 8.1. PROBLEMS OF A PRODUCTION MODEL FOR DISCOURSE            | 261 |
| 8.2. INTERACTIVE AND PRAGMATIC PRODUCTION STRATEGIES         | 264 |
| 8.3. SEMANTIC PRODUCTION STRATEGIES                          | 272 |
| 8.4. STRATEGIES FOR ESTABLISHING LOCAL COHERENCE             | 278 |
| 8.5. PROPOSITIONAL PRODUCTION STRATEGIES                     | 280 |
| 8.6. SOME CONSEQUENCES FOR SENTENCE PRODUCTION STRATEGIES    | 283 |
| 8.7. SOME PRODUCTION STRATEGIES FOR THE NEWSWEEK TEXT | 286 |
| 8.8. TOWARD A PROCESS MODEL OF DISCOURSE PRODUCTION          | 293 |

Chapter 9 Strategies for the Use of Knowledge

|                                                           |     |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 9.1. KNOWLEDGE SYSTEMS                                    | 304 |
| 9.2. KNOWLEDGE USE IN METAPHOR COMPREHENSION              | 312 |
| 9.3. REDINTEGRATION, REMINDING, AND PARTIAL MATCHES       | 315 |
| 9.4. STRATEGIES FOR KNOWLEDGE USE IN DISCOURSE            | 317 |
| 9.5. KNOWLEDGE USE IN THE NEWSWEEK TEXT            | 319 |
| 9.6. EXPERIMENT 6: GLOBAL BIASES IN KNOWLEDGE UTILIZATION | 324 |
| APPENDIX: TEXTS USED IN EXPERIMENT 6A                     | 331 |

Chapter 10 The Cognitive Model

|                                                                                 |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 10.1. FROM THE TEXT REPRESENTATION TO THE SITUATION MODEL                       | 336 |
| 10.2. A FRAMEWORK FOR A PROCESS MODEL                                           | 346 |
| 10.3. SHORT-TERM MEMORY USE IN DISCOURSE PROCESSING                             | 352 |
| 10.4. RETRIEVAL FROM EPISODIC TEXT MEMORY                                       | 356 |
| 10.5. A PROCESSING MODEL FOR UNDERSTANDING AND SOLVING WORD ARITHMETIC PROBLEMS | 364 |
| 10.6. EPILOGUE                                                                  | 383 |
