

Contents

Introduction	1
Wolfgang Palaver, Harriet Rudolph, and Dietmar Regensburger

PART I: HISTORICAL APPROACHES

1	Religion and Violence in the Hussite Wars	19
	Pavel Soukup
2	Religion, War, and Violence in the Swiss Confederation	45
	Thomas Lau
3	Were the French Wars of Religion Really Wars of Religion?	61
	Philip Benedict
4	Religious Wars in the Holy Roman Empire? From the Schmalkaldic War to the Thirty Years War	87
	Harriet Rudolph
5	England's Wars of Religion: A Reassessment	119
	Charles W. A. Prior
6	Justifying Force in Early Modern Doctrines on Self-defence and Resistance	139
	Luise Schorn-Schütte

PART II: APPROACHES FROM PHILOSOPHY AND THEOLOGY

7	Secularization of the Holy: A Reading of the 'Wars of Religion'	165
	William T. Cavanaugh
8	The Modern State or the Myth of 'Political Violence'	185
	Paul Dumouchel

9	The Modern Military–Humanitarian Hybrid State: A Response to Paul Dumouchel Bruce K. Ward	197
10	Confessional Wars and Religious Violence in Christianity from a Theological Viewpoint Ralf Miggelbrink	205
11	Religion and Violence: The Case of Wars in the Former Yugoslavia Janez Juhant	219
12	The Debate About the European Wars of Religion as a Challenge to Interdisciplinary Cooperation Wolfgang Palaver	247
	Index	259