

CONTENTS

Part I: Introduction

1. Geography, History and Social Sciences: An Introduction
Georges B. Benko 3

Part II: Spatial Thinking in History

2. Lefebvre, Lacan and the Production of Space
Derek Gregory 15

3. World Time and World Space or Just Hegemonic Time and Space?
Milton Santos 45

4. The Language of Space
Michel Foucault 51

5. Geography before Geography: Pre-Hellenistic Meteors and Climates
Jean-François Staszak 57

6. Geographical Systems and the Order of Reality
Martin Hampl 71

Part III: Cities and Landscapes in Time

7. Landscape as Overlapping Neighbourhoods
Torsten Hägerstrand 83

8. The Urban and the Rural: An Historical-Geographic Overview
Clyde Mitchell Weaver 97

9. Space and Creativity:
‘Belle Epoque’ Paris: Genesis of a World-Class Artistic Centre
Paul Claval 133

10. From Weimar to Nuremberg:
Social Legitimacy as a Spatial Process in Germany, 1923-1938
Ulf Strohmayr 143

Part IV: Economics

11. Contemporary Acceleration: World-Time and World-Space
Milton Santos 171
12. Structural Change, Theories of Regulation and Regional Development
Mick Dunford and Diane Perrons 177
13. Theory of Regulation and Territory: An Historical View
Georges B. Benko 193

Part V: Politics

14. Territoriality and the State
Ron J. Johnston 213
15. The Spatial and the Political: Close Encounters
Jacques Levy 227
16. Space and Communication:
A Brief Analytical Look at the Concept of Space in the Social Theory
Judith Lazar 243

Part VI: Conclusion

17. Conclusion: The Spatialization of the Social Sciences
Ulf Strohmayer 257
- List of Figures 261
- Contributors 262
- Index 265