

Contents

List of Figures, Tables and Boxes	x
Preface	xii
List of Abbreviations	xiv

1 The European Union as a System of Differentiated Integration	1
Between International Organization and State	2
Membership	2
Delimitation	3
Authority	4
Governance capacity	5
Legitimacy	6
Differentiated Integration	7
Measuring Differentiated Integration	11
Mapping Differentiated Integration	19
Differentiation: A Persistent Feature of European Integration	26

PART I THEORY

Introduction to Part I	29
2 Intergovernmentalism	40
From Realist to Liberal Intergovernmentalism	40
Rationalist Institutionalism	42
General assumptions: international interdependence and rational choice	42
Explanatory theories: the functional theory of institutions, endogenous trade theory, bargaining theory, and club theory	43
Intergovernmentalism and European Integration	46
National preferences	46
Interstate bargaining	48
Institutional choice	50
General hypotheses	52

Intergovernmentalism and Differentiated Integration	53
Realist intergovernmentalism: autonomy-driven differentiated integration	54
Liberal intergovernmentalism: interest divergence and externalities of differentiation	55
Conjectures	59
Conjecture 1	59
Conjecture 2	60
3 Supranationalism	62
From Neofunctionalism to Supranationalism	62
Historical Institutionalism	64
General assumptions: rational actors in a path-dependent process of institutionalization	64
Explanatory theories of integrative dynamics	66
Supranationalism and European Integration	69
Spillover	70
Institutionalization and path dependence in European integration	72
General hypotheses	75
Supranationalism and Differentiated Integration	77
Intensity of transnational exchange	78
Capacity and preferences of supranational actors	80
Conjectures	81
Conjecture 1	82
Conjecture 2	83
4 Constructivism	84
A New Emphasis on Ideas	84
Sociological Institutionalism	85
General assumptions: ideas and appropriateness	85
Explanatory theories: community institutions, argumentation, and socialization	87
Constructivism and European Integration	90
Ideas and integration preferences	91
Negotiations in a community environment	93
Integration and socialization	95
General hypotheses	98
Constructivism and Differentiated Integration	99
Conditions	99
Conjectures	102
Conjecture 1	102
Conjecture 2	103

PART II POLICIES

Introduction to Part II	105
5 The Single Market	111
The Development of the Single Market	113
The Treaties of Rome	113
The Single European Act	114
After the SEA	117
Horizontal integration	118
Conclusion of historical overview	120
Intergovernmentalism	122
The beginnings of integration: post-World War II Europe, economic interdependence	123
Integrative dynamics: growing interdependence and preference convergence before the SEA	125
Differentiated integration	127
Supranationalism	131
The beginnings of integration: transnational exchanges and the EEC Treaty	131
Explaining the single market programme: transnational exchanges, institutionalization, and spillover	133
Horizontal integration and differentiation	135
Constructivism	136
The beginnings of integration: ideas matter	136
Integrative dynamics: shared understandings of common challenges	137
Differentiated integration: constructivism	139
Conclusion	140
6 Economic and Monetary Union	142
The Development of Monetary and Fiscal Integration	143
The Bretton Woods system	143
The Snake and the European Monetary System	145
Economic and monetary union	147
The debt crisis and the reform of EMU	150
Conclusion	152
Intergovernmentalism	155
Realist intergovernmentalism: monetary integration to increase state autonomy?	156
Liberal intergovernmentalism: interdependence, preference convergence, and credible commitments	157
Differentiated horizontal integration	161

Differentiated vertical integration	164
Centralization of fiscal policy in the debt crisis:
intergovernmental bargaining	165
Supranationalism	166
EMU: spillover and transnational networks	167
Horizontal differentiation	169
Vertical differentiation	170
From differentiation to uniformity?	171
Functional spillover and supranational autonomy in the
debt crisis	172
Constructivism	173
EMU: macroeconomic policy consensus	174
Differentiated integration	176
The centralization of fiscal policy: socialization and
solidarity?	178
Conclusion	179
Interdependence	180
Convergence of policy preferences	180
German power	181
7 Security and Defence	184
The Development of Security and Defence Policy in the EU	184
A bold move: the Pleven Plan and the EDC	186
De Gaulle's 'certain idée' and the Fouchet Plans	188
Informal intergovernmental coordination: the EPC	189
Picking up speed: Maastricht, Amsterdam, and the CFSP	191
Change of tide: St Malo, ESDP, and CSDP	194
Conclusion	196
Explaining the European Defence Community and its
Failure	198
Intergovernmentalism	198
Supranationalism	204
Constructivism	205
Explaining St Malo: The Return of Defence Policy	209
Intergovernmentalism	209
Supranationalism	213
Constructivism	215
Conclusion	218
8 The Area of Freedom, Security and Justice	221
The Development of the Area of Freedom, Security and
Justice	221
Early intergovernmental beginnings	222

Integration of justice and home affairs into the EU:
Maastricht and beyond	224
Horizontal integration	226
Conclusion	228
Intergovernmentalism	229
Formation and development of the AFSJ: sovereignty, interdependence, member state preferences, and bargaining	229
Differentiated horizontal integration	230
Supranationalism	233
Formation and development of the AFSJ: transnational networks and spillover	233
Horizontal and vertical differentiation	237
From differentiation to uniformity?	238
Constructivism	239
Formation and development of the AFSJ: shared ideas and inclusive identities	239
Differentiated horizontal integration	240
Conclusion	243
9 Conclusion: Integration and Differentiation in the European Union	245
Differentiated Integration in the European Union	247
Evaluating the Theories	249
Assumptions and expectations	249
Vertical integration and differentiation	251
Horizontal integration and differentiation	255
A Synthetic Framework	259
Common ground	259
Scope conditions	262
Summary	265
Where Do We Go From Here?	267
References	269
Index	283