

Contents in brief

Notes on contributors

xxiii

Introduction Steve Smith, Amelia Hadfield, Tim Dunne

1

Section 1 Foreign Policy Analysis: Theoretical and Historical Perspectives

9

1 The history and evolution of foreign policy analysis Valerie M. Hudson

11

2 Realism and foreign policy William C. Wohlforth

31

3 Liberalism and foreign policy Michael W. Doyle

49

4 Constructivism and foreign policy Jeffrey T. Checkel

71

Section 2 Analysing Foreign Policy: Actors, Context, and Goals

83

5 Actors, structures, and foreign policy analysis Walter Carlsnaes

85

6 Foreign policy decision-making:
rational, psychological, and neurological models Janice Gross Stein

101

7 Implementation and behaviour Elisabetta Brighi and Christopher Hill

117

8 The role of media and public opinion Piers Robinson

137

9 The primacy of national security Brian C. Schmidt

155

10 Economic statecraft Michael Mastanduno

171

11 Duties beyond borders Michael Barnett

189

Section 3 Foreign Policy Case Studies

205

12 The Cuban Missile Crisis Graham Allison

207

13 Canada and antipersonnel landmines: human security
as a foreign policy priority Lloyd Axworthy

229

14 Neoconservatism and the domestic sources of American foreign policy:
the role of ideas in Operation Iraqi Freedom Yuen Foong Khong

251

15 India and the World Trade Organization Amrita Narlikar

269

16 Israeli–Egyptian (in)security: the Yom Kippur War Gareth Stansfield

285

17 China and the Tian'anmen bloodshed of June 1989	Rosemary Foot	301
18 Energy and foreign policy: EU–Russia energy dynamics	Amelia Hadfield	321
19 Britain and the gathering storm over Iraq	Tim Dunne	339
20 New actors, new foreign policy: EU and enlargement	Lisbeth Aggestam	359
Conclusion: Teaching foreign policy cases	Steven L. Lamy	377

Glossary

Endnotes

Bibliography

Index

389

401

407

429