Self-Regulated Learning and Performance: An Introduction and an Overview 1

Barry J. Zimmerman and Dale H. Schunk

Part I

BASIC DOMAINS OF SELF-REGULATION OF LEARNING AND PERFORMANCE

The basic domains of self-regulation include: the cognitive and metacognitive domain, the developmental domain, the motivational domain, and the social and environmental domain. Although self-regulation in these domains overlap to some degree, each chapter focuses on a different key issue regarding the self-regulation of learning and performance.

Self-Regulated, Co-Regulated, and Socially Shared Regulation of Learning 65

Allyson Fiona Hadwin, Sanna Järvelä, and Mariel Miller

Part II

INSTRUCTIONAL ISSUES IN SELF-REGULATION OF LEARNING AND PERFORMANCE

The second section of the book will focus on instructional issues in teaching self-regulation skills in diverse contexts, such as during in-class instruction, during homework completion, during learning from computers and hypermedia sources, and during learning from a mentor.

Self-Regulatory Training through Elementary-School Students'
Homework Completion 87

Heidrun Stoecker and Albert Ziegler

Use of Hypermedia to Assess and Convey Self-Regulated Learning 102

Roger Azevedo, Amy Johnson, Amber Chauncey, and Arthur Graesser

8

Nancy E. Perry and Ahmed Rahim

Facilitating Self-Regulated Learning Using Mentoring Approaches
with Doctoral Students 137

Carol A. Mullen

Part III

SELF-REGULATION OF LEARNING IN SPECIFIC CONTENT AREAS

The third section of the volume focuses on the adaptation of self-regulatory principles to investigate their effectiveness on specific tasks, such as mathematics, reading, writing, athletic, and musical skills.

10

Self-Regulation of Mathematical Knowledge and Skills 155

Erik De Corte, Lucia Mason, Fien Depaepe, and Lieven Verschaffel

Anastasia Kitsantas and Maria Kavussanu

15

Self-Regulation and Mastery of Musical Skills 234

Gary E. McPherson and James M. Renwick

Part IV

METHODOLOGICAL ISSUES IN ASSESSING SELF-REGULATION OF LEARNING

The fourth section of the book will examine methodological issues in assessing self-regulation of learning and performance, such as reliability, validity, diagnostic value, and sensitivity to instruction. This section will include task-adaptive measures of self-regulatory processes (e.g., diary measures of studying, think-aloud measures, microanalytic measures, case-study measures, and meta-analytic methods) as well as task-specific measures (e.g., help-seeking, self-efficacy beliefs, habit measures, and motivational strategies questionnaire).

Charlotte Dignath van Ewijk

Part V

INDIVIDUAL AND GROUP DIFFERENCES IN SELF-REGULATION OF LEARNING

This section of the book will examine individual differences in self-regulation of learning and performance. This section will include such topics as: describing self-regulation of affect and emotions, the role of gender in self-regulation of learning, and the role of culture and cultural identity in self-regulation.

25

Self-Regulated Learning in Academic Domains 393

Patricia A. Alexander, Daniel L. Dinsmore, Meghan M. Parkinson, and Fielding I. Winters

26

Emotions, Emotion Regulation, and Self-Regulation of Learning 408

Monique Boekaerts

27

The Influence of Gender on Students' Self-Regulated Learning and Performance 426
