

Contents

Part I THE MODERN WORLD

1	The Problem of Production	11
2	Peace and Permanence	21
3	The Role of Economics	38
4	Buddhist Economics	51
5	A Question of Size	61

Part II RESOURCES

6	The Greatest Resource – Education	77
7	The Proper Use of Land	100
8	Resources for Industry	115
9	Nuclear Energy – Salvation or Damnation?	130
10	Technology with a Human Face	142

Part III THE THIRD WORLD

11	Development	159
12	Social and Economic Problems Calling for the Development of Intermediate Technology	167
13	Two Million Villages	186
14	The Problem of Unemployment in India	200

Part IV ORGANISATION AND OWNERSHIP

15	A Machine to Foretell the Future?	217
16	Towards a Theory of Large-scale Organisation	235
17	Socialism	248
18	Ownership	256
19	New Patterns of Ownership	266
	Epilogue	289
	Notes and Acknowledgments	295