

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements .....	vii
Introduction
Karim Benyekhlef .....	1

Part I: Justice Values and Digitalization

Introduction: Fundamental Values in a Technologized Age of Efficiency
Jane Bailey .....	25
I    Cyberjustice and International Development: Reducing the Gap Between Promises and Accomplishments
Renaud Beauchard .....	29
II   Evaluating e-Justice: The Design of an Assessment Framework for e-Justice Systems
Giampiero Lupo .....	53
III  The Role of Courts in Assisting Individuals in Realizing Their s. 2(b) Right to Information about Court Proceedings
Graham Reynolds .....	95
IV   Privacy v. Transparency: How Remote Access to Court Records Forces Us to Re-examine Our Fundamental Values
Nicolas Vermeys .....	123

Part II: Courtroom Interactions And Self-Empowerment

Introduction: Troubling the Technological Imperative: Views on Responsible Implementation of Court Technologies
Jacquelyn Burkell .....	157
V    ATJ Technology Principles: Access to and Delivery of Justice
Donald J Horowitz .....	163
VI   Empowerment, Technology, and Family Law
Sherry MacLennan .....	197
VII  The Case for Courtroom Technology Competence as an Ethical Duty for Litigators
Amy Salyzyn .....	211

VIII	Tablets in the Jury Room: Enhancing Performance while Undermining Fairness?
	David Tait and Meredith Rossner	241

Part III: Toward New Procedural Models?

Introduction: Continuity and Technological Change in Justice
	Delivery
	Fabien Gélinas	255
IX	The Old... and the New? Elements for a General Theory of Institutional Change: The Case of Paperless Justice
	Pierre Noreau	263
X	Cyberjustice and Ethical Perspectives of Procedural Law
	Daniel Weinstock	305
XI	Three Trade-Offs to Efficient Dispute Resolution
	Clément Camion	317
XII	The Electronic Process in the Brazilian Judicial System: Much More Than an Option; It Is a Solution
	Katia Balbino de Carvalho Ferreira	337
XIII	Access to Justice and Technology: Transforming the Face of Cross-Border Civil Litigation and Adjudication in the EU
	Xandra E Kramer	351
Postscript: eAccess to Justice – Brief Observations
	Guy Canivet	377
	Bibliography	383
	Contributors	405