
Contents

List of contributors	ix
Foreword	xiii
Acknowledgements	xv

Introduction: Reflections on the therapeutic frame	1
MARIA LUCA

1 Boundary issues in psychotherapy: from the literal to the figurative frame	8
MARIA LUCA

2 Therapy in general practice – frames within frames	36
NICK ZINOVIEFF

3 Experiencing the frame: psychotherapy from a client's perspective	53
DEBORAH KILLEEN

4 You have been framed: maternity and the male psychotherapist	67
STEFANO FERRAILOLO

5 Therapist illness and its impact on the therapeutic frame	86
ANNE BROCKBANK

6	We must stop meeting like this: unplanned contact between psychotherapist and patient	98
	JAMES POLLARD
7	Broken boundaries: perverting the therapeutic frame	116
	PAOLA F. VALERIO
8	Challenging therapy: an existential perspective on the frame	128
	PAUL SMITH-PICKARD
9	'The exclusion zone': a psychoanalytic perspective on the frame	142
	JOHN BEVERIDGE
10	Hospital philosophy and the frame: an existential/ phenomenological perspective	165
	GREG MADISON
11	Boundaries of timelessness: some thoughts about the temporal dimension of the psychoanalytic space	190
	ANDREA SABBADINI
	Index	205

Index

Page entries in bold type represent whole chapters devoted to that topic

- abandonment 91, 93; fears 151, 152
abstinence, therapeutic 163
acceptance, of loss 163
accidental meetings see unplanned meetings accountability, legal/professional 101–2 acting out: analysand 16, 21, 22, 24, 60; fee paying transgressions 16–17, 29; maternity ward context 73–4, 79; patient's perspective 59–60; sexual 144; therapist 3, 5, 116–17, 124; therapist's family 22 see also frame transgressions acute hospital ward setting see existential/phenomenological approach; see also hospital ward setting; maternity ward setting aggression see hatred; hostility AIDS 172, 173 see also hospital ward setting
AIDS, Death and the Analytic Frame 173
alchemic metaphor 125–6
Allen, Woody 143
alternative approaches 9, 160, 165, 170–1, 175, 176, 185 see also existential/phenomenological approach; hospital ward setting; maternity ward setting; non-frame based therapy ambiguity 135, 138–41
ambivalence 138–9
analysis see psychoanalysis; see also counselling anger see hatred; hostility anonymity/self-disclosure 17, 146, 160, 167, 175, 182 see also blank screen approach anxiety: in countertransference 101–6, 111, 114; death 93–4, 96, 170–4, 177, 180, 184–5; therapist's 124 see also panic attacks anxious attachment 91 appearance, therapist 10
appointment time transgressions 10–11, 15–16 archetypes 67 see also collective unconscious arrival time transgressions 10–11, 15–16 attachment: anxious 91; behaviour 151; early patterns 107–9, 112; idealized 107–9, 112; insecure 54 attitudes, patient 73–4 authoritarian frame see rigid frame; see also conventional frame-based therapy; orthodoxy, theoretical; psychoanalytic perspective authority figures, trusting 150, 151, 154 autonomy/heteronomy 138–9

- Balint, M. 36
 Bauknight, Rebecca AIDS, Death and the Analytic Frame 173 behaviour: defensive 151, 154, 158; natural 14 beliefs, therapist 101, 108, 110, 173–4, 176 Bettelheim, Bruno 83
 between see intersubjective field
 Beveridge, John 6, 142–64
 Bion, W.R. 75, 90, 155
 blank screen approach 160, 175 see also anonymity borderline patients 118, 125
 borders see boundaries; frame boredom, in countertransference 122 boundary issues 8–35 see also frame; frame modification; frame transgressions Bowlby, J. 34, 90, 151 breaking boundaries see frame modification; frame transgressions; perversion; see also existential/phenomenological approach breaks/holidays 151–3, 170
 breast cancer, therapist see illness Breuer, Joseph 99
 brief/time-limited therapy 17, 41, 48, 50, 167; unplanned meetings 104–6 Brockbank, Anne 5, 86–97
 broken boundaries see frame modification; frame transgressions; perversion; see also existential/phenomenological approach cancer, therapist see illness Cassandra's Daughter 142 challenging psychotherapeutic norms see existential/phenomenological approach childhood experiences 169, 173, 174, 177, 180, 184–5, 198 children, violence towards 73, 75, 76
 client's perspective see experiencing the frame; see also patients Cohn, H.W. 37, 41, 42, 49, 133 collaboration, professional 41, 43–7, 50 see also confidentiality collective: mythology 68–9, 72, 75, 76, 83, 84; unconscious 67, 68–9, 72, 75, 76 communicative psychoanalysis 39 communicatory role, frame transgressions 16, 21, 22, 24 complexes, core 119, 121
 confidentiality 41, 43–7, 50, 72, 168, 171 conflict, medical/therapeutic 171–4 conflicts, exposure through frame transgressions 16, 21, 22, 24
coniunctio 125–6
 connectedness, human 170–1, 172, 174–5, 177, 180–5
 consensual frame 135
 consistency 135, 140–1
 contact, unplanned see unplanned meetings containment, by frame 14, 34; challenging norms 132; existential-phenomenological perspective 169, 170, 174; GP context 40–2, 45–7, 49–50; maternity ward context 70, 73–5, 78, 82–4; patient's perspective 61, 63–5; psychoanalytic perspective 161; and therapist illness 90, 91; unplanned meetings 101, 103, 114
 contingency 130, 134 see also extemporaneous frame continuity 165
 contracts, therapeutic 12–13, 25, 90, 91; breaking, reasons for 149–50; establishing 18, 148–9; modified 167 see also fees/money issues control see rigid frame conventional frame-based therapy 168–71 core: complexes 119, 121; conflicts, exposure through frame transgressions 16, 21, 22, 24 counselling: GP setting 36–7, 41, 48, 50; hospital setting 166 countertransference 144; boredom/hostility 122; breaking

- boundaries 117, 122, 124–5; and brief contacts 104–6; guilt/anxiety 101–6, 111, 114; patient's perspective 59–61; perverse patients 117, 122, 124–5; psychoanalytic perspective 153–5; understanding unplanned contacts 111–13 see also transference
- creation mythology 67–8
- creativity: and frame transgressions 118; in psychotherapy 9, 12, 14, 178–81 see also existential/phenomenological approach
- cure/healing: failure 9, 64, 65, 159; and frame transgressions 16, 21, 22, 24; mode of efficacy 169–70, 176, 184; talking 143, 161; and therapeutic alliance 154, 162; therapeutic outcome 148; and unplanned contact 113–14, 115
- curiosity, patient 146–8, 105, 153
- daughter-parent relationships 75–81, 83
- death anxiety: patient's perspective 54, 57; and terminal illness 170–4, 177, 180, 184, 185; therapist 93, 94, 96 see also illness, therapist
- defences: dissociation 108, 111; frame as 154; patient's perspective 64; perversion 119; therapist 93, 96, 107
- defensive behaviour 151, 154, 158
- denial, of illness 93, 96
- dependence 151, 155–8
- depression 54, 64, 66; post-natal 24
- despair, medicalization of 183–4
- development/growth: object relations 107–9; post-Oedipal 108
- deviant frame/deviations see frame modifications
- discipline see rigid frame; see also conventional frame-based therapy; orthodoxy, theoretical; psychoanalytic perspective
- disclosure, therapist see anonymity
- disruptions, frame see frame transgressions; see also frame modification; perversion
- dissociation defences 108, 111
- dogma see orthodoxy, theoretical; see also conventional frame-based therapy; psychoanalytic perspective; rigid frame
- dream interpretations 32–3, 144
- duration of therapy: brief/time-limited 17, 41, 48, 50, 167; and countertransference 104–6; Freud on 201–2
- elasticity: advocates 12, 13; benefits 9, 14, 29, 34; GP setting 47, 50; metaphor 9, 34; supportive therapies 12 see also flexibility
- Electra complex 75–6, 79, 81
- embarrassment, patient/analyst 108
- embedded supervision 6, 128, 130–1, 135–6, 140
- embodied narrative 134, 141
- empathy 125
- encounters, face-to-face 130, 139
- ending therapy 7, 155; premature 91, 92 see also illness, therapist
- engagement, therapeutic 175–6
- entitlement 8
- erotic: feelings 151, 155–8; transference 56, 58–9, 62–4, 66
- ethical therapy 8, 130, 137, 139, 175–6
- evidence base 69
- evolving boundaries 68
- exclusion zone metaphor 6, 157 see also psychoanalytic perspective
- existential/phenomenological approach 128–41; ambiguity 135, 138–41; consensual frame contents 135; consistency 135, 140–1; containment 132; contingency 130, 134; embedded supervision 128, 130–1, 135–6, 140; embodied narrative 134, 141; ethics 130, 137, 139; extemporaneous frame 128–30, 132–3, 135–7, 140–1; functional paradigm 135, 137–8, 140; general references 3, 6, 37, 41–2, 49, 177;

- heteronomy 138–9;
 intersubjectivity 130, 138, 140–1;
 irrelevance of frame 173; learning methods 137–8; picture frame metaphor 132–3; reality, working within 132–4; Russian dolls metaphor 129; stereotyped images of therapy/supervision 128–32, 135–6 see also alternative approaches; frame modification;
 frame transgressions; hospital
 ward setting; maternity ward setting; non-frame based therapy;
 psychotherapy support team (PST)
- experiencing the frame 2, 5, 53–66, 112; acting out 59–60;
 biographical background 54;
 containment 61, 63–5;
 countertransference 59, 60, 61;
 death anxiety 54, 57; depression 54, 64, 66; defences 64; erotic
 transference 56, 58–9, 62–4, 66;
 frame 54–7, 64–5; frame breaks 54–7, 61, 64–5; frame
 management 61, 62, 65, 66;
 insecure attachment 54; mistakes
 64, 65; panic attacks 54, 55, 58;
 psychodynamic therapy 55–8,
 rigid frame 58, 59, 61; sexuality
 54–5; therapeutic relationship 53,
 56; therapist A 55–8; therapist B
 58–61, 63; therapist C, humanist
 61–3; therapist D, psychoanalytic
 63–5; transference 56, 58, 59,
 61–3
- extemporaneous frame 6, 128–30, 132–3, 135–7, 140–1 see also
 contingency
- face-to-face encounter 130, 139
Face to Face – Therapy as Ethics 8
 failure/mistakes, therapist's 9, 64, 65, 159; acknowledgment 101, 103,
 115
- fairy tales/fantasy 83, 84, 195
 false self: patient 160; therapist 11 fantasy: beliefs, therapist 101, 108, 110, 173–4, 176; fairy tales 83, 84,
 195
- Farber, Leslie 180–4
 father-daughter relationships 75–81, 83
 fears: abandonment 151, 152; death 93, 94, 96 see also anxiety feelings: angry 22; frame 169;
 therapist's 45, 50, 153, 155
 fees/money issues 25–30; acting out 16–17, 29; contract 25; in GP context 41; mishandling 27–8;
 symbolism of 25, 26
 female gender identity 122–3 see also women
- Ferenczi, S. 9, 29–30, 175
 Ferraiolo, Stefano 5, 67–85
- fetishism 106, 120, 122
 films illustrating perversion 118–20
 Flaubert, Gustave Madame Bovary
 116
- flexibility, frame 4, 68; Freud's approach 174–5; general practitioner context 38, 41, 47–50;
 hospital context 174–81 see also elasticity; non-frame based therapy
- frame 1–7, 11–15; An Introduction to the Therapeutic Frame 40, 131, 169; authoritarian 149, 159–60;
 –based therapy 168–71;
 beneficiaries 13; concept 37–41, 48; as defence 154; elements
 40–1, 49; feelings 169; freedom within 84; function/importance 6, 15, 17, 33–4, 49, 117, 161–2 (see also containment); good-enough 73; ideal 9, 38, 40, 71, 82;
 inside/outside reality metaphor 11–12, 31–3; new approaches/user-friendly 161; physical location 18; restrictions 117; rigid 58, 59, 61, 106; transitional 163;
 within frame 42 see also boundary issues; experiencing the frame;
 extemporaneous frame; flexibility;
 orthodoxy; space, therapeutic and see below
- frame modifications 15–19;
 anonymity 167; confidentiality
 168, 171; consensual frame 135;

- contract 167; duration of therapy 41, 48, 50, 167; frequency of occurrence 116, 118, 124–5, 167; Freud 11, 39, 49, 129; GP setting 38, 42, 44, 49, 50; hospital ward setting 166–8, 171, 174; human connectedness 170–1, 172, 174–5, 177, 180–5; implications 9–10, 12; individual variation 17; involving patients 18; irrelevance of frame 173; location 13, 23; maternity ward setting 71–2; patient's perspective 61; patient requests for 28, 29; personal appearance of therapist 10; place 166; premature ending of therapy 91, 92; time 166–7; touch 167–8 see also existential/phenomenological approach; illness of therapist; non-frame based therapy
- frame transgressions: arrival time violations 10–11, 15–16; challenges 15–19; communicatory role 16, 21, 22, 24; and creativity 118; frequency 116, 118, 124, 125; general references 2–3, 5–6, 11, 158–9; interruptions/intrusions 20–4, 167; maternity ward setting 79, 81–3; patient's perspective 54–7, 61, 64–5; therapeutic benefits 9, 11; therapist countertransference 117, 122, 124–5; therapist response 19–20 see also acting out; fees/money issues; perversion; unplanned meetings
- free association 11
- frequency of therapy 116, 118, 124, 125, 167
- Freud, S: biography 77; duration of therapy 201–2; flexible approach 12, 174–5; and frame 11, 39, 49, 129; orthodoxy 143–4, 160; scientific credibility 142, 144; scientific model 69; unplanned contact 99, 102–4, 109–10
- functional paradigm 135, 137–8, 140
- future, preparation for 198
- Gaia 67–8, 72, 76, 79, 81
- gays, treatment 160
- gender: dynamics 5, 68, 76–80, 82 (see also maternity ward setting); identity 122–3
- general practitioner setting (GP) 5, 36–52; confidentiality/professional collaboration 41, 43–7, 50; counselling/psychotherapy 36–7, 41, 48, 50; deviations from frame 38, 44, 49; duration of therapy 41, 48, 50; elasticity 47, 50; existential/phenomenological approach 3, 37, 41, 42, 49; fees 41; flexibility 38, 41, 47–50; frame in general practice 37, 41–8, 49; frame within frame 42; maternal holding function 40, 41, 47; modifying frame 49, 50; need for frame 49; new patients referral 43–4; physical setting/rooms 40, 42, 43; psychoanalytic tradition 38; psychotherapists feelings 45, 50; secure frame 39, 40, 42, 45, 46, 49, 50; session times 40; transference 39, 47–9
- good-enough frame 73
- good-enough mother 73
- Gordon, Paul 8
- GP see general practitioner setting
- Gray, Anne 40, 41, 49, 54, 135; An Introduction to the Therapeutic Frame 40, 131, 169
- Greek mythology 67–8, 72, 75–6, 79, 81
- guilt, in countertransference 101–6, 111, 114
- hatred 154, 155, 156, 158; unconscious 101 see also hostility
- healing see cure/healing
- heteronomy/autonomy 138–9
- holding see containment
- holidays/breaks 151–3, 170
- hospital ward setting 165–89; alternative approach 165, 169, 170–6, 177, 185; beliefs, therapist 173–4, 176; conflict, medical/therapeutic 171–4;

- containment 169, 170; continuity 165; conventional frame-based approach 168–71; counselling requirements 166; death anxiety 170–4, 177, 180, 184, 185; deviations from frame 166–8, 171, 174; flexible framework response 174–7; frame feelings 169; human connectedness 170–2, 174–5, 177, 180–5; irrelevance of frame 173; metaphor of frame 174, 184, 185; mode of efficacy 169–70, 176, 184; philosophical stance 185–6; reality of situation 172, 173; self-disclosure, therapist 170, 175; terminal illness 170–4; therapeutic engagement/ethical analysis 175–6; therapeutic space 176; transference/childhood experiences 169, 173, 174, 177, 180, 184–5 see also existential/phenomenological approach; frame modifications; maternity ward setting; psychotherapy support team hostility: analysis and 22; countertransference 122; towards children 73, 75, 76 see also hatred House, Richard 50
 human connectedness/relatedness 170–2, 174–5, 177, 180–5 humanist/psychodynamic school 3, 49, 61–3, 90, 92 see also existential/phenomenological approach hypnosis 143, 161
 ideal frame 9, 38, 40, 71, 82
 idealized attachment 107–9, 112 identity, gender 122–3 illness, terminal 17, 170–4; AIDS 172, 173 see also hospital ward setting; illness, therapist illness, therapist 5, 86–97; after-effects 95–6; anxious attachment 91; causal attribution of illness 92, 95; containment 90, 91; death fears 93, 94, 96; defences/denial 93, 96; diagnosis of breast cancer 86–9; frame establishment/contract 90, 91; informing clients/openness 92, 95; person-centered/integrative school 90, 92; premature ending of therapy 91, 92; psychodynamic school 90, 92; return of clients 94; separation/abandonment 91, 93; supervision 91–2, 96; therapeutic alliance 89, 90, 95; transferring clients 92–3; uncertainty 95 images, stereotyped 8, 128–32, 135–6, 142–3 impersonal nature of therapy see anonymity
 indispensability fantasies 101
 insecure attachment 54
 integrative school 3, 90, 92 interaction, therapist/patient: social 107, 111, 112; in therapy see therapeutic alliance interpretations: dream 32–3, 144; inadequate 107 interruptions/intrusions during therapy 167; managing 20–4 intersubjective field 125, 130, 138, 140–1 see also therapeutic space interventions, psychotherapeutic 71–2 intimacy and sex 156–7
An Introduction to the Therapeutic Frame 40, 131, 169 intrusions/interruptions during therapy 167; managing 20–4 inventiveness see creativity
 Jung, C.G./Jungian school 3, 77, 125
 Khan, Masud 33
 Killeen, Deborah 5, 53–66
 Klein, M. 12, 155
 Laing, R.D. 129, 138
 Langs, Robert 39, 40, 61, 71; 'Communicative Psychotherapy' 170 language, limitations 4 learning by mistakes 9
 legal/professional accountability 101–2

- life threatening illness see illness
 Little, Margaret 104
 location of therapy, physical 18, 40, 42, 43, 68, 72;
 changing/modifying 13, 166; room decor 23
 loss, acceptance 163
 Luca, Maria 1-7, 8-35
- Madame Bovary* 116
 Madison, Greg 6, 165-89
 male: gender identity 122-3; and maternity see maternity ward setting managerial supervision 131, 136
 manipulative patients 106
 Mann, D. 66
 maternal holding see containment; see also mother maternity ward setting 5, 67-85;
 acting out 73-4, 79; case studies 73, 74, 79-81, 83; collective mythology 68-9, 72, 75, 76; containment 70, 73-5, 78, 82-4; Electra complex 75-6, 79, 81; existential perspective 69; fairy tales/fantasy 83, 84; frame modification 71, 72; frame transgressions 79, 81-3; Freud's contribution 69; gender of therapist 68, 76-80, 82; good-enough frame 73; ideal frame 71, 82; miscarriage 74, 76, 80; mourning 75; obsessional elements 75; parent-daughter relationships 75-81, 83; patient attitudes to frame 73-4; privacy/confidentiality 72; psychotherapeutic interventions 71-2; psychotic elements 74, 75, 84; setting 68, 72; theory of frame 69-71, 83, 84; transference 78, 79, 80, 83; violent impulses towards children 73, 75, 76; womb metaphor 69, 72-5, 79, 80, 82, 83
 see also
 existential/phenomenological approach; hospital ward setting Medea 75, 79, 81
- media images see films illustrating perversion; images, stereotyped meditation, and therapy 69
 meetings, accidental see unplanned meetings Merleau-Ponty, M. 138, 139
 metaphors, frame 38-9, 53, 174, 184-5; alchemic 125-6; elasticity 9, 34; exclusion zone 6, 157 (see also psychoanalytic perspective); inside/outside reality 11-12, 31-3; picture frame 132-3; Russian dolls 129; theatre 195; womb 69, 72-5, 79, 80, 82, 83
 Milner, M. 11, 31, 37, 39, 49, 53, 132
 miscarriage 74, 76, 80
 mistakes/failure, therapist's 9, 64, 65, 159; acknowledgment 101, 103, 115
 Mitchell, Stephen 147, 148, 159, 161 modernity see alternative approaches; see also existential/phenomenological approach; hospital ward setting; non-frame based therapy money see fees/money issues mother, good enough 73 see also parent mourning 75, 163
 mutual analysis 175
 mythology: collective 68-9, 72, 75-6, 83-4; creation 67-8; Greek 67-8, 72, 75-6, 79, 81
- narrative, embodied 134, 141 national health service see
 existential/phenomenological approach; hospital ward setting; maternity ward setting natural behaviour 14
 needs: analysand, for protection 22; therapist 158-9 negative responses, therapist 117, 124, 125 NHS see
 existential/phenomenological approach; hospital ward setting; maternity ward setting
 non-frame based therapy 165, 169;

- human connectedness 170–2, 174–5, 177, 180–5; irrelevance of frame 173; reality of situation 172, 173; terminal illness 170–4
- norms, challenging see existential/phenomenological approach; hospital ward setting; non-frame based therapy
- object relations 107–9 see also attachment
- obsessional compulsion 75
- openness, with patients 92, 95 see also anonymity
- Orbach, Susie 161
- orthodoxy, theoretical 8–12, 18–19, 143–4, 160 see also conventional frame-based therapy; psychoanalytic perspective; rigid frame
- outcome, therapeutic see cure/healing
- panic attacks 54, 55, 58
- parallel process 144
- parent/parental: -daughter relationships 75–81, 83; responses 154–5
- patients: curiosity/awareness towards analyst 146–8, 105, 153; false self 160; feelings 155–7; and frame modification 18, 28, 29; informing 92, 95; manipulative 106; perverse 118, 121–2, 125; /therapist interaction 107–9, 112 see also therapeutic alliance
- patient's perspective: attitudes to frame 73–4; frame transgressions 54–7, 61, 64–5 see also experiencing the frame
- person-centered/integrative school 3, 90, 92
- personal appearance/presentation, therapist 10
- personality, psychotic elements 74, 75, 84
- perspective, patient: attitudes to frame 73–4; frame transgressions 54–7, 61, 64–5 see also experiencing the frame
- perspective, psychoanalytic see psychoanalytic perspective
- perversion, frame 116–27; acting out, therapist 116, 117, 124; alchemic metaphor 125–6; anxiety over 124; borderline patients 118, 125; and countertransference 117, 122, 124–5; core complexes 119, 121; and creativity 118; fetishization 120, 122; films illustrating perversion 118–20; frequency of frame transgressions 116, 118, 124, 125; function of frame 117; negative responses, therapist 117, 124, 125; perverse patients 118, 121, 122, 125; restrictions of frame 117; sexualization 119, 120; shadow 119, 121; shame over 116–18, 123, 125; and therapeutic alliance 117, 124; therapeutic value 116–17, 122, 124–6; transference, perverse 122; unconscious collusion 125
- phenomenological school see existential/phenomenological approach see also hospital ward setting; maternity ward setting
- philosophical stance 185–6
- physical contact 158, 161, 167–8
- physical setting see location of therapy
- La Pianiste* 118–20
- The Piano* 120
- picture frame metaphor 132–3
- place see location of therapy
- placebo effect, in therapy 176
- play, in psychotherapy see creativity
- Pollard, James 5, 98–115
- Pollock, Jackson 133
- post-natal depression 24
- power balance, therapeutic relationship 149, 150, 152, 161–2
- presentation/personal appearance, therapist 10
- privacy 72 see also confidentiality
- professional: accountability 101–2; collaboration 41, 43–7, 50
- projective identification 144, 155
- psychoanalysis: communicative 39;

- mutual 175 see also psychotherapy; temporal dimension
- psychoanalytic perspective 3, 63–5,
 142–64; abandonment fears 151,
 152; abstinence, therapeutic 163;
 aggression/hatred 154, 155, 156, 158; anonymous/impersonal nature of therapy 146; blank screen approach 160; breaking contract 149–50; breaks/holidays 151–3; controversy 144–5;
 countertransference 153–5;
 curiosity towards analyst 146–8,
 153; defensive behaviour 151,
 154, 158; establishing contract
 148, 149; false self 160; fantasies
 155; feminism 160; frame 37, 38,
 149, 159–63; Freudian orthodoxy
 143–4, 160; gays, treatment 160;
 history 143–4; intimacy and sex 156–7; losses, acceptance and mourning 163; patient's feelings
 155–7; projective identification
 155; rejection 157; relational approach 156, 160; scientific credibility 142, 144; self-psychology 160; separation anxiety 151; shame 157; silence, managing 150, 158; stereotyped images 142–3; talking cure 143, 161; termination 155; therapeutic outcome 148; therapeutic relationship 149–52, 154–8, 162;
 therapist's failure/inadequacy 159;
 therapist's feelings 153, 155;
 therapist's needs 158–9;
 touch/physical contact 158, 161;
 training, exacting/critical 144–5;
 training analysis 145, 146; trusting authority figures 150, 151, 154;
 women, treatment 143–4, 160
- psychodynamic/humanist school 3, 49, 61–3, 90, 92; patient's perspective 55–8; stereotyped images of therapy 129 see also existential/phenomenological approach
- psychotherapist see therapist
- psychotherapy: conventional frame-based 168–71;
 corporatization 178; definition 163; ending 7, 91, 92, 155; GP setting 36–7, 41, 48, 50; hospital setting 166; interventions 71–2;
 mode of efficacy 169–70, 176, 184; stereotyped images 8,
 128–32, 135–6, 142–3; training 144–5 see also duration of therapy; experiencing the frame;
 existential/phenomenological
 approach; general practitioner setting; hospital ward setting;
 maternity ward setting; non-frame based therapy; psychoanalysis
- psychotherapy support team (PST)
 177; effectiveness 184;
 flexibility/creativity 9, 12, 14, 178–81; human relatedness 180–5; lack of preconceptions 177, 179;
 medicalization of despair 183–4;
 practice 179–84; therapist selfdisclosure 182; truthfulness 184
see also hospital ward setting
- psychotic elements of personality 74, 75, 84
- Racker, Heinrich 100, 101, 102
- reality: and frame 116, 118, 124, 125;
 inside/outside metaphor 11–12,
 31–3; working within 132–4, 172, 173
- recovery see cure/healing
- referral, new patients 43–4
- regression 196–9
- rejection, feelings of 157
- relatedness, human 170–1, 172,
 174–5, 177, 180–5
- relational: approach 156, 160;
 problems 160
- relations, object 107–9 see also attachment
- repetition 198
- repression 144
- response, therapist 19–20; negative
 117, 124, 125
- reticence see self-disclosure/anonymity

- rigid frame/analytic technique 12, 58, 59, 61, 106, 149, 159–60 see also orthodoxy, theoretical
- Riviere, Joan 102–4
- Rogers, C.R. 90, 146
- rooms used for therapy see location of therapy
- rules of therapy 11, 39, 49, 53; dogmatic adherence 12 see also contracts; frame; rigid frame
- Russian dolls metaphor 129
- Sabbadini, Andrea 6, 190–203
- saviour complex 82
- Schwartz, Joseph Cassandra's Daughter 142
- scientific credibility, psychoanalysis 6, 142, 144
- scientific model 69
- secure frame, superstition of 176 see also containment
- self-disclosure/anonymity 17, 146, 160, 167, 175, 182 see also blank screen approach
- self, false: patient 160; therapist 11
- self-psychology 160
- separation: anxiety 151; and therapist illness 91, 93
- setting, physical see location of therapy
- sex, confusion with intimacy 156–7
- sexual abuse 21
- sexuality, analysis 54–5; dependence/erotic feelings 151, 155–8; erotic transference 56, 58–9, 62–4, 66
- sexualization 119, 120
- shadow 119, 121
- Shakespeare King Lear 123
- shame 157; boundary transgressions 116–18, 123, 125; erotic feelings 59
- short-term/time-limited therapy see brief therapy
- sibling rivalry 16, 22
- silence, managing 150, 158
- Sleeping Beauty story 195
- Smith-Pickard, Paul 5, 128–41
- social interaction, therapist/patient 107, 111, 112 see also therapeutic alliance
- space, therapeutic 125, 176 see also intersubjective field; location of therapy
- spontaneity, in therapeutic technique 9, 14
- stalking, by patients 146–8, 105, 153
- stereotyped images of therapy 8, 128–32, 135–6, 142–3
- subjectivity, therapist 10, 11
- superstition, secure frame 176
- supervision: embedded 6, 128, 130–1, 135–6, 140; family metaphor 131; group 136; managerial 131, 136; and therapeutic relationship 131; and therapist illness 91–2, 96; and unplanned meetings 102
- symbolism of fees/money 25, 26
- talking cure 143, 161
- telepathy 125, 144
- temporal dimension, psychoanalysis 6, 190–203; analytic regression 196–9; clinical vignettes 192–4; contrast of temporalities 195–6, 198–9, 201; duration of therapy 201–2; experience of time 196; future, preparation for 198; predictability, temporal 200, 201; repetition 198; Sleeping Beauty story 195; theatre metaphor 195; time boundaries of therapy 193, 199, 202; timelessness, unconscious 196, 197; timing of interpretations 199–200; transcendence of time 198; transference 198
- terminal illness 17, 170–4; AIDS 172, 173 see also hospital ward setting
- termination, analytical 7, 155; premature 91, 92
- theatre metaphor 195
- theory, psychotherapeutic 69–71, 83, 84; alternatives 9, 160, 165, 170–1, 175, 176, 185; controversy 9, 144–5; orthodox 8–12, 18–19, 143–4, 160 see also conventional frame-based therapy;

- existential/phenomenological approach; hospital ward setting;
 non-frame based therapy;
 psychoanalytic perspective; rigid frame therapeutic abstinence 163 therapeutic alliance: abandonment fears 151, 152; dependence/erotic feelings 151, 155–8; disinterested 162; gender dynamics 5, 68, 76–80, 82; perverse 117, 124; and
 early attachment patterns 107–9, 112; experiencing 53, 56; general references 149–52, 154–8, 162;
 healing power 154, 162; nature 3;
 neutral 162; personal chemistry 148; power balance 149, 150, 152,
 161–2; psychoanalytic perspective
 149–52, 154–8, 162; shortcomings
 162; and social interaction 107, 111, 112; and supervision 131;
 and therapist's illness 89, 90, 95;
 unique 154; unplanned meetings
 31, 102, 103, 107, 115; value
 116–17, 122, 124–6
 therapeutic contract see contract therapeutic engagement 175–6 therapeutic outcome see cure/healing therapeutic relationship see therapeutic alliance therapeutic space 125, 176 see also intersubjective field; location of therapy
 therapists: beliefs 101, 108, 110, 173–4, 176; case studies – A 55–8; B 58–61, 63; C 61–3; D
 63–5; error, acknowledgment 101,
 103, 115; failure/inadequacy 9, 64, 65, 159; feelings 45, 50, 153, 155;
 humanist 61–3; illness/death 5,
 86–97; indispensability fantasies
 101; needs 158–9; personal appearance 10; psychoanalytic 63–5; response 19–20, 117, 124, 125; saviour complex 82; selfdisclosure 17, 146, 160, 167, 175, 182; subjectivity 10, 11
 therapy see psychotherapy
There's Something About Mary 142 time/s: of arrival, violation 10–11, 15–16; dimensions see temporal dimension; experience of 196;
 -limited therapy see brief therapy;
 session 40, 166–7 see also duration of therapy
 touch/physical contact 158, 161, 167–8
 toughness see rigid frame tradition see orthodoxy, theoretical;
 see also conventional frame-based therapy; psychoanalytic perspective; rigid frame training, exacting nature 144–5 training analysis 145, 146; experience of see experiencing the frame transcendence of time, unconscious 198 transference 198; bringing forward 109–13, 115; erotic 56, 58–9, 62–4, 66; GP setting 39, 47–9;
 hospital ward setting 169, 173, 174, 177, 180, 184–5; maternity ward setting 78–80, 83; negative 58, 59; patient's perspective 56, 58, 59, 61–3; perverse 122; and
 unplanned meetings 99–106, 108
 transgressions, frame see frame transgressions; see also frame modification; perversion
Trithemius Annalium Hirsaugensium 116
 trust, in authority figures 150, 151, 154 truthfulness, in therapy 184
 uncertainty, and illness 95 unconscious: collective 67, 68–9, 72, 75, 76; collusion 125; frame in expression of 17; hatred 101;
 knowing 33; transcendence of time 198
 unplanned meetings 5, 14, 24, 30–3, 98–115; accountability,
 legal/professional 101–2; benefit 109–13, 115; brief contacts 104–6;
 containment 101, 103, 114;
 deliberate 105; dissociative
 defences 108, 111; embarrassment

- 108; error, acknowledgment 101, 103, 115; and fantasies, therapist/patient 101, 108, 110; and frame 102, 106, 112, 114–15; Freud's 99, 102–4, 109, 110; gains from 113–14, 115; guilt/anxiety, therapist 101–6, 111, 114; history 98–9; manipulative patients 106; meaning of 107–9, 111–13; and social relationships 107, 111, 112; supervision 102; and therapeutic relationship 31, 102, 103, 107, 115; and transference/countertransference 99–106, 108; unstructured contact 100–2; working through 101
- Valerio, Paola F. 5, 116–27
- violations, frame see frame transgressions; see also frame modification; perversion
- violence towards children 73, 75, 76
- Wingfield, Rachel 151
- Winnicott, D.W. 9, 33, 40, 70, 76, 84, 154, 155, 160; biography 77
- womb metaphor 69, 72–5, 79, 80, 82, 83
- women, treatment 143–4, 160 see also female gender identity
- Woolf, Virginia 1
- Yalom, Irvin 174, 175
- Zinovieff, Nick 4, 36–52

Index by Judith Reading