

Contents

|                                                                                                                             |      |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|
| List of figures                                                                                                      | xi   |
| List of tables                                                                                                       | xii  |
| Acknowledgements                                                                                                     | xiii |
|                                                                                                                         |      |
| Introduction                                                                                                         | 1    |
| The stages of a comparative research                                                                                 | 3    |
| The structure of the book                                                                                            | 3    |
| Notes                                                                                                                | 7    |
| References                                                                                                           | 7    |
|                                                                                                                         |      |
| 1 Effective control and proper exercise of the executive power: between democratic consolidation and Europeanization | 9    |
| The theoretical perspective of the book                                                                              | 10   |
| Accountability and integrity                                                                                         | 13   |
| The theoretical debate on democratic consolidation                                                                   | 16   |
| The role of the European Union and the Europeanization of Central and Eastern Europe                                 | 19   |
| Notes                                                                                                                | 21   |
| References                                                                                                           | 22   |
|                                                                                                                         |      |
| 2 Democratic consolidation in Central and Eastern Europe: domestic factors, paths and outcomes                       | 30   |
| The problems of constitutional legitimation and the belated consolidation in Poland                                  | 30   |
| The ambiguity of institutions and the exclusive legitimation in Slovakia                                             | 35   |
| The institutional stability and the rapid consolidation in Bulgaria                                                  | 41   |
| Conclusions                                                                                                          | 46   |
| Notes                                                                                                                | 48   |
| References                                                                                                           | 49   |

|          |                                                                                                  |            |
|----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 3 | The external influence on democracy of the European Union: strategies, tools and limits   | 52  |
|          | Critical juncture and new political criteria: preparing for the Eastern enlargement       | 52         |
|          | The experience of the Eastern enlargement and the evolution of the EU strategy and policy | 55         |
|          | The post-accession strategy: blurring the boundaries between member and candidate states  | 58         |
|          | Conclusions                                                                               | 60         |
|          | Notes                                                                                     | 61         |
|          | References                                                                                | 62         |
| 4 | Building democratic and accountable governments                                           | 65  |
|          | Poland                                                                                    | 65         |
|          | Slovakia                                                                                  | 76         |
|          | Bulgaria                                                                                  | 87         |
|          | Conclusions                                                                               | 93         |
|          | Notes                                                                                     | 95         |
|          | References                                                                                | 98         |
| 5 | Ensuring integrity: between political behaviour and policy-making                         | 104 |
|          | Poland                                                                                    | 104        |
|          | Slovakia                                                                                  | 115        |
|          | Bulgaria                                                                                  | 124        |
|          | Conclusions                                                                               | 134        |
|          | Notes                                                                                     | 136        |
|          | References                                                                                | 141        |
| 6 | Accountability and integrity: between national paths and European pressures               | 146 |
|          | Accountability and integrity at the core of democratic consolidation                      | 146        |
|          | Democratic consolidation meets Europeanization: did the EU make the difference?           | 150        |
|          | Extending the findings: the Hungarian case and its unfinished democratic consolidation    | 155        |
|          | Conclusions                                                                               | 160        |
|          | Notes                                                                                     | 161        |
|          | References                                                                                | 161        |

7 Conclusions

163

Empirical and theoretical considerations 163*Addressing the EU's shortcomings: the need for a comprehensive approach toward democratization in candidate and Member States* 165*References* 169*Appendix*

171

Index

179

|     |                                                                                              |     |
|-----|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 2.1 | Poland: is democracy the best political system?                                              | 31  |
| 2.2 | Poland: satisfaction with democracy                                                          | 32  |
| 2.3 | Slovak Republic: legitimization of the democratic regimecompared to the post-1918 regime | 36  |
| 2.4 | Slovak Republic: satisfaction with democracy                                                 | 37  |
| 2.5 | Bulgaria: satisfaction with democracy                                                        | 42  |
| 3.1 | Poland: corruption perception index                                                          | 105 |
| 3.2 | Do you think that corruption in Poland isa large or small problem?                       | 106 |
| 3.3 | Slovakia: corruption perception index                                                        | 117 |
| 3.4 | Bulgaria: corruption perception index                                                        | 126 |