PART I

Basic Concepts in Anthropology

1 Introduction to Anthropology	1
Anthropology: The Four Subfields	3
Physical Anthropology	3
Archaeology	4
Linguistic Anthropology	7
Ethnology	7
Holistic Anthropology, Interdisciplinary Research, and the Global Perspective	9
Applied Anthropology	11
Anthropology and Science	11
The Scientific Method	12
Limits of Science	13
Anthropology and the Humanities	14
Why Study Anthropology?	15
Critical Thinking and Global Awareness	15
Summary	15
Suggested Readings	16
2 Evolution	17
Cosmologies and Human Origin	18
Western Traditions of Origin	19
The Scientific Revolution	20
Catastrophism Versus Uniformitarianism	20
Theories of Evolution	21
Lamarck: Acquired Traits	21
Darwin, Wallace, and Natural Selection	22
Examples of Natural Selection?	23
Principles of Inheritance	24
Mendel and Modern Genetics	24
Molecular Genetics	27
Population Genetics and Evolution	29
Mutations	29
Gene Flow	30
Genetic Drift	30
Natural Selection	30
How Does Evolution Occur?	31
Speciation	31
Punctuated Equilibrium	32

Adaptive Radiation	32
The Evolution of Life	32
Analogy and Homology	33
Plate Tectonics and Continental Drift	35
Blood Chemistry and DNA	36
The Paleontological Record	37
Scientific Creationism and Evolution	37
The Shortcomings of Creationism	38
Summary	38
Suggested Readings	39

3 The Record of the Past 40

Fossils and Fossil Localities	41
The Archaeological Record	43
Preservation	43
Studying the Past	44
Answering Questions	45
Historical Archaeology	45
Ethnoarchaeology	45
Underwater Archaeology	47
Locating Sites	48
Subsurface Testing	49
Remote Sensing	49
Excavation	50
Dating Methods	52
Relative Dating	52
Numerical, or Absolute, Dating	54
Seriation	56
Interpreting the Archaeological Record	57
Summary	58
Suggested Readings	59

PART II

Physical Anthropology

4 The Primates 60

Primate Characteristics	61
Dentition, Eyesight, and Brain Size	62
Reproduction and Maturation	63
Classification of Primates	63
Primate Subdivisions	64
Classification of Fossil Primates	65

The Evolution of the Primate Order	65	Genetics and Evolution	110
Primate Origins	65	The Physical Environment	111
Fossil Prosimians	67	Culture	111
Modern Prosimians	68	Evaluating Reasons for Variation	111
Evolution of the Anthropoids	68	The Concept of Race	112
Emergence of the Hominoids	72	Ancient Classification Systems	112
Modern Apes	78	Early "Scientific" Studies of Race	114
Primate Behavior	79	Limitations of Classification Systems	114
Primate Social Groups	81	Geographical Races	115
The Human Primate	83	Alternative Approaches to Human Variation	116
Summary	83	Clinical Distribution	116
Suggested Readings	84	Multivariate Analysis	117
5 Hominid Evolution	85	Adaptive Aspects of Human Variation	118
Trends in Hominid Evolution	86	Skin Color	118
Bipedalism	87	Body Build	119
Reduction of the Face, Teeth, and Jaws	89	Cranial and Facial Features	120
Increase in Cranial Capacity	89	Biochemical Characteristics	120
Other Physical Changes	90	Sickle-cell Anemia	121
Fossil Evidence for Hominid Evolution	90	Lactase Deficiency	122
Java Man: The "First" Homo Erectus	90	Effects of the Physical Environment	123
Peking Man and Other Homo Erectus	90	High-altitude Adaptations	123
The Piltdown Fraud	92	Cultural Diversity in Human Populations	123
Taung Child: A South African		The Impact of Modern Urban Life	123
Australopithecine	93	Hereditry and Intelligence	124
Other South African Australopithecines	93	Measuring Intelligence	125
Australopithecus boisei: The "Nutcracker		What Do Intelligence Tests Measure?	125
Man"	95	Summary	125
Homo habilis: The "Handyman"	96	Suggested Readings	126
The Oldest Australopithecines:
Australopithecus afarensis	96
Australopithecus aethiopicus:
The "Black Skull"	98
Interpreting the Fossil Record	98
Australopithecus africanus as Ancestor	100
Australopithecus afarensis as Ancestor	100
Revised Models	100
Missing Pieces in the Fossil Record?	100
Molecular-dating Evidence for
Hominid Evolution	102
From Homo erectus to Homo sapiens	102
Transitional Forms	103
The Evolution of Homo sapiens	103
Multiregional Evolutionary Model	103
Replacement Model	104
Mitochondrial DNA Research	105
Archaic Homo sapiens	105
Homo sapiens neanderthalensis	106
Summary	107
Suggested Readings	108
6 Human Variation	109
Sources of Human Variation	110
		PART III
		Archaeology
		7 Paleolithic Cultures	127
		Lifestyles of the Earliest Hominids	128
		The Oldowan	128
		Living Sites	130
		Primate Models of Human Behavior	131
		Homo erectus Culture	131
		The Acheulian	131
		The Appearance of Homo sapiens	134
		Technological Advances	134
		Neandertal Technology	134
