

Contents

Foreword	7
Ákos Moravánszky
Introduction	13
Torsten Lange
I Identity Construct(ion)s	25
Piercing the Wall: East-West Encounters in Architecture, 1970–1990	27
Ákos Moravánszky
Notes on Centers and Peripheries in Eastern Bloc Architectures	45
Georgi Stanishev (senior), Georgi Stanishev (junior)
An Image and Its Performance: Techno-Export from Socialist Poland	59
Łukasz Stanek
Postmodern Architectural Exchanges Between East Germany and Japan	73
Max Hirsh
Being Underground: Dalibor Vesely, Phenomenology and Architectural Education during the Cold War	89
Joseph Bedford
From the Hungarian Tulip Dispute to a Post-Socialist Kulturkampf	105
Daniel Kiss
II The Turn to History	119
Russia, Europe, America: The Venice School Between the U.S.S.R and the U.S.A.	121
Joan Ockman
Deconstructing Constructivism	149
Alla Vronskaya
The (New) Concept of Tradition: Aldo Rossi’s First Theoretical Essay	165
Angelika Schnell
Paolo Portoghesi and the Postmodern Project	179
Silvia Micheli, Léa-Catherine Szacka
Boris Magaš and the Emergence of Postmodernist Themes in the Croatian Modernist Tradition	191
Karin Šerman
“Keep Your Hands Off Modern Architecture”: Hans Hollein and History as Critique in Cold War Vienna	209
Ruth Hanisch

III Public Criticism and the Rediscovery of the City	225
Heritage, Populism and Anti-Modernism in the Controversy of the Mansion House Square Scheme Michela Rosso	227
Preservationism, Postmodernism, and the Public across the Iron Curtain in Leipzig and Frankfurt/Main Andrew Demshuk	245
“Le Monopole du Passéisme”: A Left-Historicist Critique of Late Capitalism in Brussels Sebastiaan Loosen	261
Keeping West Berlin “As Found”: Alison Smithson, Hardt-Waltherr Hämer and 1970s Proto-Preservation Urban Renewal Johannes Warda	275
Humane Spontaneity: Teaching New Belgrade Lessons of the Past Tijana Stevanović	289
Quality of Life or Life-in-Truth? A Late-Socialist Critique of Housing Estates in Czechoslovakia Maroš Krivý	303
Appendix	319
Notes on Contributors	321
Index	329