

CONTENTS

| | |
|------------------|------|
| Acknowledgements | xi |
| Introduction | xiii |

Section One: Why parents need to get back in charge

| | |
|---|----|
| 1. Getting back in charge | 3 |
| 2. The four screen issues | 15 |
| 3. How big is your family's problem? | 38 |
| 4. The negative effects of screen time | 45 |
| 5. Teens and preteens | 59 |
| 6. Why screen time is so addictive | 78 |
| 7. Why does getting back in charge feel so difficult? | 86 |

Section Two: How to get back in charge of the electronics in your home

| | |
|---|-----|
| 8. How to limit screen time | 101 |
| 9. Screen time as a reward | 116 |
| 10. How to decide on a screen time reward plan for your family | 123 |
| 11. How to introduce the new plan to your child | 138 |
| 12. Q & As | 157 |

Section Three: The Calmer, Easier, Happier Parenting strategies that will make the new screen habits easier to establish

| | |
|---|-----|
| 13. Descriptive Praise | 177 |
| 14. Strengthening your resolve | 181 |
| 15. Preparing for Success | 186 |
| 16. Reflective Listening | 195 |
| 17. Improving cooperation with the Never Ask Twice method and action replays | 200 |
| 18. Replacing screen time with other activities | 211 |
| Conclusion | 237 |
| Appendix A: | |
| Calmer, Easier, Happier Parenting Resources | 241 |
| Appendix B: | |
| Other Resources | 245 |
| Index | 247 |