

Contents

Acknowledgements

xi

1 THE PROBLEM STATED: AMBITIONS AND WORK PRESSURES, THEIR ORIGINS AND CONSEQUENCES IN CAPITALIST AND SOCIALIST SOCIETIES

1

Professional work and the development of ambition in the United States

6

The effects of work pressures and ambitions on personal life in the United States

8

The comparison with Eastern European socialist societies

10

Work in the Soviet Union and the German Democratic Republic

13

2 'NO, MY WIFE DOESN'T WORK - SHE'S A HOUSEWIFE': AMERICAN SINGLE-CAREER FAMILIES

23

Introduction

23

The work situation

26

Sources of tensions at work

28

Background of the professionals

35

The schooling of American professional men

38

Effects of tensions of family relations: the wives' perspective

41

Effects of tensions on family relations: the male professionals' perspective

48

The effects of work pressures and tensions on friendships

59

Conclusion

61

Appendix: Notes on interviewing

64

Interview guide

68

3 'I AM A PROFESSIONAL, TOO': AMERICAN DUAL-CAREER FAMILIES	71
Introduction	71
Family background and the roots of occupational aspiration	72
The school experiences of men and women in dual-career families	78
The original 'contract'	81
The situation at work	85
The over-scheduled family	88
The effects of work on the marital relationship	90
The effects of work pressures on friendships	105
Conclusion	108
Appendix: Notes on interviewing	111
4 DOES SOCIALISM MAKE A DIFFERENCE? DUAL-CAREER FAMILIES IN THE SOVIET UNION AND THE GERMAN DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC	112
Introduction	112
Occupational origins of the respondents	116
Education in the Soviet Union and in the German Democratic Republic	119
Supports in socialist countries for working men and women	128
Role conceptions of professional men and women	135
The world of work	138
The effects of work pressures on personal relationships	147
Appendix: Notes on the Eastern European interviews	165
5 CONCLUSION: PROFESSIONAL WORK AND PERSONAL LIFE IN CAPITALIST AND SOCIALIST SOCIETIES	170
Notes	180
Bibliography	184
Index	191