

Table of contents

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |            |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| KEYNOTE PRESENTATION ABSTRACTS:                                                                                                                                                                             | 7   |
| Jeffrey Beall: Plagiarism is Everywhere: Detecting and Reporting Plagiarism in Predatory Journals and Other Publications                                                                                           | 8          |
| Tracey Bretag: Evidence-based responses to contract cheating                                                                                                                                                       | 9          |
| Teddi Fishman: Experiential Learning, Authenticity, and Improvisation in the Service of Academic Integrity                                                                                                         | 10         |
| Tomáš Foltýnek: European Network for Academic Integrity                                                                                                                                                            | 11         |
| Philip M. Newton: Pouring ALE on contract cheating. Recent developments in strategies to tackle ghostwriting and Essay Mills using Assessment design, Legal approaches and stakeholder Education                   | 12         |
| Calin Rus: Competences for Democratic Culture – a reference and a tool for promoting academic integrity                                                                                                            | 13         |
| SECTION I: Best Practices and Strategies for Awareness, Prevention, Detection of Academic Misconduct                                                                                                        | 14  |
| Full Papers                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 15  |
| Marco Cosentino, Franca Marino, Chandana Haldar, Georges J. M. Maestroni: Honorary authors and unwitting: personal experience with a journal from a publisher included in the Beall's list of predatory publishers | 15         |
| Irene Glendinning: Scorecard for Academic Integrity Development: Benchmarks and evaluation of institutional strategies                                                                                             | 25         |
| Daniel Jakubík, Šimon Suchomel, Luboš Lunter, Michal Brandejs: Institutional Repository Driven by Access Rights as a Part of Plagiarism Detection Systems                                                          | 35         |
| Inés Friss de Kereki: Detecting Academic Misconduct in Introductory Computer Science Courses                                                                                                                       | 45         |
| Peter Kročtý: Raising Awareness About Scholastic Honesty At Higher Education Institution                                                                                                                           | 59         |
| Anna Michalska: Plagiarism? I know a definition, but I don't know what it means                                                                                                                                    | 71         |
| Christopher Rieber: Using Electronic Plagiarism Tools to Teach University Students to Avoid Plagiarism                                                                                                             | 93         |
| Andrei Rostovtsev: Plagiarism in the dissertations and scientific publications in Russia                                                                                                                           | 107        |
| Synopsis                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 113 |
| Erik Borg: Intertextuality reconsidered                                                                                                                                                                            | 113        |
| Petra Hauptfeld-Göllner, Natascha Miljkovic: To whom belongs the idea? Discussing plagiarism at universities from the perspective of ownership                                                                     | 114        |
| Inga Gaižauskaitė: Sources of (un)ethical behaviour of students                                                                                                                                                    | 115        |
| Andrzej Kurkiewicz: Academic Integrity and plagiarism in Poland                                                                                                                                                    | 116        |

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |            |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| Milan Ojsteršek, Goran Hrovat: The organisational and technical aspects of establishing plagiarism detection processes in the Slovenian open access infrastructure . . . . .                                                                 | 117        |
| Kate Rowbotham, Christine Coulter: Making Sense of Prosocial Explanations for Violations of Academic Integrity . . . . .                                                                                                                     | 118        |
| Loreta Tauginienė: Comprehensive framework for fostering responsible research: Lithuania . . . . .                                                                                                                                           | 119        |
| Workshops . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 120 |
| Faith Dillon-Lee, Alexandra Pitt, Gemma Wilkinson: Divergent Thinking, Diverse Practices, and Unified Integrity . . . . .                                                                                                                    | 120        |
| Christopher Haycock: Using a structured and robust method of enquiry in the investigation of academic dishonesty . . . . .                                                                                                                   | 121        |
| Evangelina Litsa Mourelatos: Tackling the Tariff: Aligning Best Practices and Aiming for Equity . . . . .                                                                                                                                    | 123        |
| Brian Schumacher: Three Strikes and You're Out? . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                    | 124        |
| Rui Sousa-Silva: Detecting plagiarism and contract cheating: new academic integrity challenges . . . . .                                                                                                                                     | 125        |
| Working papers . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 126 |
| Emilia Sercan: Plagiarism in Ph.D. theses. A case study of military universities in Romania . . . . .                                                                                                                                        | 126        |
| Posters . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 127 |
| Rodica M. Dragotoiu, Alexandru Gugu: Awareness concerning plagiarism in case of first year medical students . . . . .                                                                                                                        | 127        |
| Sharon Dzik: Academic Integrity through Restorative Justice . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                        | 128        |
| John Paul Foxe, Andrea Ridgley: An Innovative Approach to Decision Making in Cases of Suspected Academic Misconduct . . . . .                                                                                                                | 129        |
| Barbara Lämmlein, Roland Schimmel: Academic Misconduct in Bachelor Degree Programs—An Empirical Insight into Current Students' Ethical Behavior . . . . .                                                                                    | 130        |
| SECTION II: National and Local Projects about Academic Integrity . . . .                                                                                                                                                              | 131 |
| Full Papers . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 132 |
| Irene Glendinning, Tomáš Foltýnek, Dita Dlabolová, Dana Linkeschová, Thomas Lancaster: Exploring Issues Challenging Academic Integrity in South East Europe . . . . .                                                                        | 132        |
| Gábor Király, Zsuzsanna Géring, Nicholas Chandler, Péter Miskolczi, Yvette Lovas, Kinga Kovács, Sára Csillag: Parallel universes: cheating at the university. Comparing lecturers' and students' understanding of student cheating . . . . . | 147        |
| Synopsis . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 172 |

|                                                                                                                                                        |            |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| Jonathan Kasler, Meirav Hen, Adi Sharabi-Nov: Academic integrity in higher education: The case of a medium-size college in the Galilee, Israel . . . . | 172        |
| Veronika Králíková, Tomáš Foltýnek: Analysis of Ghostwriting market in Czechia . . . . .                                                               | 173        |
| Salim Razi, Havva Sümeýra Pektaş: Investigating policies for plagiarism and academic integrity: The case of Turkey . . . . .                           | 174        |
| Posters . . . . .                                                                                                                               | 175 |
| Ansgar Schäfer, Oliver Trevisiol: Plagiarism Prevention Project . . . . .                                                                              | 175        |
| SECTION III: Innovation in Use of e-tools and Technologies for Addressing Plagiarism . . . . .                                                  | 176 |
| Full Papers . . . . .                                                                                                                           | 177 |
| Michal Ďuračík, Emil Kršák, Patrik Hrkút: Using concepts of text based plagiarism detection in source code plagiarism analysis . . . . .               | 177        |
| Patrick Juola: Detecting Contract Cheating via Stylometric Methods . . . . .                                                                           | 187        |
| Julius Kravjar: Pan-European Repository of Theses and Dissertations and Pan-European Plagiarism Detection . . . . .                                    | 199        |
| Synopsis . . . . .                                                                                                                              | 208 |
| Alice Schmidt Hanbidge, Amanda McKenzie: Foundation for Academic Success: Academic Integrity . . . . .                                                 | 208        |
| Workshops . . . . .                                                                                                                             | 210 |
| Patrick Hilt: How reference management programs can help to reduce plagiarism by mistake . . . . .                                                     | 210        |
| Alice Schmidt Hanbidge, Amanda McKenzie: Foundations For Academic Success . . . . .                                                                    | 211        |
| Oleksandr Striamets, Ali Takhmazov: Challenges met at former USSR countries in combat of academic plagiarism . . . . .                                 | 212        |
| Posters . . . . .                                                                                                                               | 213 |
| Ella Akkerman: A new approach for plagiarism avoidance and detection in Moodle's language-related course assignments . . . . .                         | 213        |
| SECTION IV: Contract Cheating Including Ghost-writing and Essay Mills . . . . .                                                                 | 214 |
| Full Papers . . . . .                                                                                                                           | 215 |
| Thomas Lancaster, Robert Clarke: Rethinking Assessment by Examination in the Age of Contract Cheating . . . . .                                        | 215        |
| Synopsis . . . . .                                                                                                                              | 229 |
| Trudy Somers: Contract cheating: A consideration of social learning, organizational citizenship and global dimensions . . . . .                        | 229        |
| Wendy Sutherland-Smith, Phillip Dawson, Helen Walker: Contract cheating: What do student advocates think? . . . . .                                    | 230        |

|                                                                                                                                                                                                  |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Workshops .....                                                                                                                                                                           | 231 |
| Michael Draper, Phil Newton: Legal approaches to tackling Essay Mills and 'Contract Cheating' .....                                                                                              | 231 |
| Working papers .....                                                                                                                                                                      | 232 |
| Chloe Walker: Nairobi Shadow Academy: A Study of Contract Cheaters (Academic Writers) in Kenya .....                                                                                             | 232 |
| SECTION V: Internationalisation, Student Mobility and Academic Integrity .....                                                                                                            | 233 |
| Full Papers .....                                                                                                                                                                         | 234 |
| Stephen Gow: Exploring academic integrity through the lens of critical theory: Mainland Chinese students' epistemological adaptation to studying on UK Master's programmes .....                 | 234 |
| Muhammad Shahid Soroya, Muhammad Aamir Hashmi, Saira Hanif Soroya: Status of Academic Integrity in Pakistan: An Overview .....                                                                   | 254 |
| Synopsis .....                                                                                                                                                                            | 263 |
| Eckhard Burkatzki, Joost Platje, Wolfgang Gerstlberger: Cultural differences regarding expected utilities and costs of plagiarism—a comparison of high-trust and low-trust student samples ..... | 263 |
| Jo Hinchliffe, Amanda McKenzie: Integrity Insights From India .....                                                                                                                              | 264 |
| Bob Ives: Patterns and Predictors of Academic Dishonesty in Romania and Moldova .....                                                                                                            | 265 |
| Bob Ives: Predictors of Academic Dishonesty: A Meta-analysis .....                                                                                                                               | 267 |