

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface	viii
Leslie Greenberg

Introduction	1
Bridging Practice and Research in Gestalt Therapy
Jan Roubal, Gianni Francesetti, Philip Brownell, Joseph Melnick,
Jelena Zeleskov-Djoric

Part I: Theoretical Ground

Chapter One	18
Warrant, Research, and the Practice of Gestalt Therapy
Philip Brownell

Chapter Two	35
Research in Gestalt Therapy: a Way of Developing our Model
Margherita Spagnuolo Lobb

Chapter Three	45
Critical Realism as an Ontology for Gestalt Therapy Research
Alan Meara

Chapter Four	64
Research from a Relational Gestalt Therapy Perspective
Ken Evans

Chapter Five	79
Looking Back: Reflections on Research
Joseph Melnick

Part II: Introducing Methods

Chapter Six	92
An Adventure in Grounded Theory Method: Discovering a Pattern in the Flow of a Therapy Process
Jan Roubal, Tomáš Řiháček
Chapter Seven.....	116
A Guide to Conducting Case-Based, Time-Series Research in Gestalt Therapy: Integrating Research and Practice in a Clinical Setting
Albert J. Wong, Michael R. Nash, Jeffery J. Borckardt, Michael T. Finn
Chapter Eight.....	130
The Construction of a Gestalt-Coherent Outcome Measure: Polarities and the Polarization-Integration Process
Pablo Herrera Salinas
Chapter Nine.....	151
Stress and Organizational Well-Being: A Gestalt Organizational Consulting Method Supported by Grounded Theory
Margherita Spagnuolo Lobb
Chapter Ten	167
Strategic Research: Using CORE to Establish an Evidence Base for Gestalt Therapy
Christine Stevens, Katy Wakelin
Chapter Eleven	178
A Gestalt Process/Action Based Theory of Depression and Test Construction Validation
Ida Babakhanyan, Todd Burley
Chapter Twelve	203
An Invitation to Engage in Relational-Centred Phenomenological Research
Linda Finlay, Ken Evans
Chapter Thirteen.....	223
A Phenomenology-Based Way to Assess Change in Psychotherapy
Rolf Sandell

Part III: Projects for Inspiration

Chapter Fourteen	244
Measurement of Interpersonal Power Relations between the Client and the Therapist in Gestalt Therapy Session using Metaphor
Laima Sapezinskiene, Julius Burkauskas, Kaylyn Kretschmer
Chapter Fifteen	271
Parallel Processes in Counseling for Schools
Liv Heidi Mjelve
Chapter Sixteen	290
Action Research: A Case of Writing as Inquiry
Rob Farrands
Chapter Seventeen	314
Emerging Beauty beyond Freedom: Gestalt Therapy Approach with Offenders using CORE and CHAP Instruments
Jelena Zeleskov Djoric, Michele Cannavo, Janko Medjedovic
Chapter Eighteen	335
Comparative Naturalistic Study on Outpatient Psychotherapeutic Treatments including Gestalt Therapy
Peter Schulthess, Volker Tschuschke, Margit Koemeda-Lutz, Agnes von Wyl, Aureliano Crameri
Chapter Nineteen	356
Organizational Well-being and Vitality of the Working Group: A Qualitative Study on a Business Consultation Model
Floriana Romano
Contributors	370