

Contents

Introduction: Social Pedagogy in Europe – Diverse with Common Features Jacob Kornbeck and Niels Rosendal Jensen	1
Part One – Past & Present: Country Portraits	11
Social Pedagogy in Germany Heinz Sünker and Rita Braches-Chyrek	12
Social Pedagogy in France Christine Bon	34
Social Pedagogy in a Swedish context Lisbeth Eriksson and Ann-Marie Markström	46
Social Pedagogy in Poland and Education for the Social Professions Ewa Kantowicz and Monika Wilińska	64
Part Two – Current Problems: Case Studies	82
Social pedagogy and ‘at-risk’ youth: societal changes and new challenges in social work with youth Søren Langager	83
Social Pedagogical Work with Juvenile Offenders in Germany Max Kreuzer	106
Social-pedagogical challenges and sport in the institutionalised daily lives of children and young people Roland Naul	120
Part Three – Future	144
Importing Social Pedagogy? Pat Petrie and Claire Cameron	145
Will Social Pedagogy disappear in Germany? Rita Braches-Chyrek and Heinz Sünker	169
Will Social Pedagogy Become an Academic Discipline in Denmark? Niels Rosendal Jensen	189
“Important but Widely Misunderstood”: the problem of defining social pedagogy in Europe Jacob Kornbeck	211
About the Contributors	236