

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction, Steven J. Jensen	xi

PART 1. BRAIN DEATH

1. Primum Non Nocere —A Contrarian Ethic?	3
Robert E. Hurley
2. Controversies surrounding Brain Death	21
D. Alan Shewmon
3. Ontological Status of Whole-Brain-Dead Individuals	43
Jason T. Eberl
4. Consciousness and Aesthetics in Decisions concerning Organ Donation Using Anencephalic Neonates	72
A. A. Howsepian

PART 2. DONATION AFTER CARDIAC DEATH

5. Organ Donation following Cardiac Death: Conflicts of Interest, Ante Mortem Interventions, and Determinations of Death	95
Christopher Kaczor
6. Ethical Concerns with Rapid Organ Recovery Ambulances	114
L. M. Whetstine

viii      Contents

PART 3. THE DEAD DONOR RULE

7. Allow the Dying to Donate: Replace the Dead Donor Rule      135
Thomas I. Cochrane
8. A Catholic View on the Dead Donor Rule      155
Witold Kania
9. Killing and Letting Die      170
Steven J. Jensen

PART 4. GIFT OR CONSCRIPTION?

10. Organ Donation and the Beatific Vision:
Thomist Moral Theology Confronts the Tide of Relativism      195
Romanus Cessario, O.P.
11. The Meaning of Gift in Organ Transplantation      217
Thomas Hurley
12. Ethics of Contact with China on Transplants      232
David Matas

PART 5. COROLLARIES AND HISTORY

13. Gestational Surrogacy and Live Organ
Donation: A Contrast      251
Thomas L. Cook
14. Organ Transplants: A Study on Bioethics and the Ordinary Magisterium      272
Janet E. Smith
- Bibliography      305
- Contributors      331
- Index      335