

Table of Contents

List of Illustrations	xi
List of Maps	xiii

Introduction: The Russian Empire 1450–1801	1
Prologue: The Chronological Arc	9

PART I. ASSEMBLING THE EMPIRE

1. Land, People, and Global Context	21
2. De Facto Empire: The Rise of Moscow	41
3. Assembling Empire: The First Centuries	55
4. Eighteenth-Century Expansion: Siberia and Steppe	84
5. Western Borderlands in the Eighteenth Century	103

PART II. THE MUSCOVITE EMPIRE THROUGH THE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY

6. Broadcasting Legitimacy	129
7. The State Wields its Power	160
8. Trade, Tax, and Production	187
9. Co-optation: Creating an Elite	207
10. Rural Taxpayers: Peasants and Beyond	222
11. Towns and Townsmen	235
12. Varieties of Orthodoxy	244

PART III. THE CENTURY OF EMPIRE: RUSSIA IN THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY

13. Imperial Imaginary and the Political Center	267
14. Army and Administration	296
15. Fiscal Policy and Trade	316
16. Surveillance and Control in Imperial Expansion	335
17. Soslovie , Serfs, and Society on the Move	355
18. Towns, Townsmen, and Urban Reform	375