Contents

Table Table List o	e of Cases e of International Treaties e of Documents of Abbreviations of Contributors	xi xiii xv xvii xix
	Introduction Tove H. Malloy	1
	1. A Complicated Nexus 2. The Aim of the Book 3. The Plan of the Book	2 6 7
	I. AUTONOMY AND TERRITORY
1.	Owned or Shared? Territorial Autonomy in the Minority Discourse Francesco Palermo	13
	 1.1 Introduction 1.2 Links between Ethnicity and Territory: Different Approaches 1.3 Autonomy for or Autonomy of? Territoriality and its Limits 1.4 Concluding Remarks: Ownership vs Governance? For a New Semantic of Autonomy 	13 14 19 29
2.	Can Non-Territorial Autonomy Bring an Added Value to Theoretic and Policy-Oriented Analysis of Ethnic Politics? Geneviève Nootens	33
	2.1 Introduction 2.2 What is NTA?	33 34
	2.3 Can NTA Bring any Added Value to Theoretic or Policy-Oriented Analysis of Ethnic Politics?2.4 Conclusion	46 54
3.	Minorities and the Limits of Liberal Democracy: Demoicracy and Non-Territorial Autonomy Ephraim Nimni	57
	3.1 Introduction 3.2 The Liberal Democratic Nation State and its Minorities	57 59
	3.3 The Securitization of Minorities in Liberal Democratic Nation States	62

37111

Contents

of Liberal Democracies of Liberal Democracies 3.5 NTA as a Democratic Alternative 3.6 NTA and its Multiplicity of Forms 3.7 The Transformation of Democratic Theory— From the Nation State Demos to a Commonwealth of Demoi 3.8 The EU as a Commonwealth of Demoicracies 3.9 Conclusion 4. Non-Territorial Autonomy: The Meaning of '(Non-)Territoriality' Markku Suksi 4.1 Introduction 4.2 Institutions 4.3 Territory vs Non-Territory 4.4 Powers 4.5 Determination of Membership 4.6 Representation of the Group 4.7 Conclusions II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 6.7 Conclusion 156	3.4 The Centralist Atomist Principle and the Limits
3.5 NTA as a Democratic Alternative 3.6 NTA and its Multiplicity of Forms 3.7 The Transformation of Democratic Theory—From the Nation State Demos to a Commonwealth of Demoi 3.8 The EU as a Commonwealth of Demoicracies 3.9 Conclusion 4. Non-Territorial Autonomy: The Meaning of '(Non-)Territoriality' Markku Suksi 4.1 Introduction 4.2 Institutions 4.3 Territory vs Non-Territory 4.4 Powers 4.5 Determination of Membership 4.6 Representation of the Group 4.7 Conclusions II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy— 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 156 156 157 158 168 170 170 170 170 170 170 170 17	3.4 The Centralist Atomist Timorpho	66
3.6 NTA and its Multiplicity of Forms 3.7 The Transformation of Democratic Theory—From the Nation State Demos to a Commonwealth of Demoi 76 3.8 The EU as a Commonwealth of Demoicracies 80 3.9 Conclusion 80 4. Non-Territorial Autonomy: The Meaning of '(Non-)Territoriality' 83 Markku Suksi 83 4.1 Introduction 85 4.2 Institutions 93 4.3 Territory vs Non-Territory 98 4.4 Powers 104 4.5 Determination of Membership 110 4.6 Representation of the Group 111 4.7 Conclusions 111 II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History 119 Jan Erk 119 5.1 Introduction 120 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 120 5.2 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 122 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 123 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 125 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 125 5.7 Conclusions 133 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots o	of Liberal Democratic Alternative
3.7 The Transformation of Demost to a Commonwealth of Demoi From the Nation State Demos to a Commonwealth of Demoi 78 76 3.8 The EU as a Commonwealth of Demoicracies 80 3.9 Conclusion 80 4. Non-Territorial Autonomy: The Meaning of '(Non-)Territoriality' 83 Markku Suksi 83 4.1 Introduction 85 4.2 Institutions 93 4.3 Territory vs Non-Territory 98 4.4 Powers 104 4.5 Determination of Membership 110 4.6 Representation of the Group 111 4.7 Conclusions 119 I. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History 119 Jan Erk 119 5.1 Introduction 120 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 120 5.2 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 122 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 123 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 125 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 129 5.7 Conclusions 129	3.5 NTA as a Democratic Mediants	. 70
From the Nation State Demos to a Commonwealth of Demoicracies 3.9 Conclusion 3.9 Conclusion 4.0 Non-Territorial Autonomy: The Meaning of '(Non-)Territoriality' 83
3.8 The EU as a Commonwealth of Demoltraties 3.9 Conclusion 4. Non-Territorial Autonomy: The Meaning of '(Non-)Territoriality' Markku Suksi 4.1 Introduction 4.2 Institutions 4.3 Territory vs Non-Territory 4.4 Powers 4.5 Determination of Membership 4.6 Representation of the Group 4.7 Conclusions II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 152 154 156	3./ The Transformation of Demos to a Commonwealth of Demoi
4. Non-Territorial Autonomy: The Meaning of '(Non-)Territoriality' Markku Suksi 4.1 Introduction 4.2 Institutions 4.3 Territory vs Non-Territory 4.4 Powers 4.5 Determination of Membership 4.6 Representation of the Group 4.7 Conclusions II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 153 154 155	From the Nation State Demoistracies
4. Non-Territorial Autonomy: The Meaning of '(Non-)Territoriality' Markku Suksi 4.1 Introduction 85 4.2 Institutions 93 4.3 Territory vs Non-Territory 98 4.4 Powers 104 4.5 Determination of Membership 104 4.6 Representation of the Group 111 4.7 Conclusions II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History 119 Jan Erk 119 5.1 Introduction 120 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 120 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 122 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 125 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 127 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 127 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia 133 Bill Bowring 133 6.1 Introduction 133 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 136 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 143 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 156 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 156	3.8 The EU as a Commonwears	80
Markku Suksi 83 4.1 Introduction 85 4.2 Institutions 93 4.3 Territory vs Non-Territory 98 4.4 Powers 104 4.5 Determination of Membership 110 4.6 Representation of the Group 110 4.7 Conclusions 111 II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History 119 Jan Erk 119 5.1 Introduction 120 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 120 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 122 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 123 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 125 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 129 5.7 Conclusions 129 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia 133 6.1 Introduction 133 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 143 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 143 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 152 or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell?		93
Markku Suksi 83 4.1 Introduction 85 4.2 Institutions 93 4.3 Territory vs Non-Territory 98 4.4 Powers 104 4.5 Determination of Membership 110 4.6 Representation of the Group 110 4.7 Conclusions 111 II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History 119 Jan Erk 119 5.1 Introduction 120 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 120 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 122 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 123 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 125 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 129 5.7 Conclusions 129 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia 133 6.1 Introduction 133 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 143 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 143 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 152 or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell?	4 Non-Territorial Autonomy: The Meaning of '(Non-) Territoriality	03
4.1 Introduction 4.2 Institutions 4.3 Territory vs Non-Territory 4.4 Powers 4.5 Determination of Membership 4.6 Representation of the Group 4.7 Conclusions II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 152 154 156	Markku Suksi	02
4.2 Institutions 4.3 Territory vs Non-Territory 4.4 Powers 4.5 Determination of Membership 4.6 Representation of the Group 4.7 Conclusions II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 104 110 110 110 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 111 110 111 110 110 111 110 111 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 111 110 111 110 110 111 110 111 110 111 110 111 110 111 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 111 110 110 110 111 110 110 110 111 110 11
4.3 Territory vs Non-Territory 4.4 Powers 4.5 Determination of Membership 4.6 Representation of the Group 4.7 Conclusions II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 104 115 110 120 121 122 123 125 127 127 129 133 133 134 135 136 137 137 138 139 139 130 131 131 132 133 134 135 136 137 137 138 139 139 130 130 131 131 132 133 134 135 136 137 137 138 139 139 130 130 131 131 132 133 134 135 136 137 137 138 139 130 130 131 131 132 133 134 135 136 137 137 138 139 139 130 130 131 131 132 133 134 135 135 136 137 137 138 139 139 130 130 131 131 132 133 134 135 135 136 137 137 138 139 139 130 130 130 131 131 132 133 134 135 136 137 137 138 139 139 130 130 130 130 130 130
4.4 Powers 4.5 Determination of Membership 4.6 Representation of the Group 4.7 Conclusions II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 104 119 129 120 122 123 123 125 126 127 128 129 133 133 134 135 136 136 137 137 137 138 139 130 130 131 131 131 132 133 133 134 135 135 136 137 137 138 139 139 130 130 130 131 131 131 132 133 133 134 135 135 136 137 137 137 138 138 139 139 130 130 130 131 131 131 132 133 133 134 135 135 136 137 137 138 138 139 139 130 130 130 130 130 130 130 130 130 130	4.2 Tarritory vs Non-Territory
4.5 Determination of Membership 4.6 Representation of the Group 4.7 Conclusions II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 110 111 111 112 112 113 115 115 115	4.6 Powers
4.6 Representation of the Group 4.7 Conclusions II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 119 120 122 123 125 126 127 127 128 129 129 129 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 129 129 120 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 128 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 128 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 128 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 127 128 129 129 120 120 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 127 127 127 127 127 127 127 127	4.4 Towers 4.5 Determination of Membership
II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 119 120 121 122 123 124 125 127 127 128 129 129 129 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 128 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 128 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 128 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 128 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 127 127 127 128 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 127 127 127 127 127 127 127 127	4.6 Representation of the Group
II. AUTONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW 5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 119 129 120 121 122 123 123 125 125 126 127 127 128 129 129 129 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 125 126 127 127 128 129 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 125 126 127 127 128 129 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 125 126 127 127 128 129 129 129 120 120 121 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 127 127 127 127 127 127 127 127 127	4.7 Conclusions	111
5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 119 120 121 122 123 125 127 129 133 133 133 143 143 154 156 156
5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 119 120 121 122 123 125 127 129 133 133 133 143 143 154 156 156	ALITONOMY IN HISTORY AND LAW
5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History Jan Erk 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 119 120 121 122 123 125 127 127 129 129 133 133 134 136 136 137 137 138 139 130 130 131 131 132 133 134 135 136 137 137 138 139 130 130 131 130 131 131 132 133 134 135 136 137 137 138 138 139 130 130 130 131 131 132 133 134 135 136 137 138 138 139 130 130 130 131 131 132 133 134 135 136 137 137 138 139 130 130 130 130 130 131 130 131 130 1		119
5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs?	5. Non-Territorial Millets in Ottoman History
 5.1 Introduction 5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6.8 From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 		119
5.2 Territorial Nation State and Westphalia 5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires, and Territory 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 123 125 127 127 129 129 129 129 129 129 129 129 129 129	5.1 Introduction
5.3 Territorial Nation State, Multinational Empires and Agenda 125 5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism' and Historiography with an Agenda 125 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 127 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 129 5.7 Conclusions 129 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy 133 6.1 Introduction 136 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 143 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 143 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 146 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy 152 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 156	. 127 Chats and Westphalla
5.4 The 'Fallacy of Presentism and Thisolography 5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bauer 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy 6.6 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 125 127 128 129 129 129 129 129 129 129 129 129 129
5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Bades 5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs?	E / The Eallact of Presentism and Installable
5.6 The Ottoman Millet System 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs?	5.5 Austro-Marxists Karl Renner and Otto Budos
 5.7 Conclusions 6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 154 	5.6 The Ottoman Millet System
6. From Empire to Multilateral Player: The Deep Roots of Autonomy in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 133 143 145 156	5.7 Conclusions	12)
in Russia Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 156	Dever The Deep Roots of Autonomy
 Bill Bowring 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy— or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 	6. From Empire to Multilateral Player. The Beep 13	133
 6.1 Introduction 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy— or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs?
 6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy— or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 		133
 6.3 Religious Autonomy in Tsarist Russia 6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy— or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 	6.1 Introduction	136
6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Telescopy 6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy— or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 154	6.2 Autonomy in Tsarist Russia	143
6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Autonomy or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shell? 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 154	6.3 Religious Autonomy in Isarist Russia	146
or 'Autonomy' as an Empty Shen: 6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NCAs? 154	6.4 Lenin and Bolshevik Concepts of Territorial Autonomy—
6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of NOAS.	6.5 A Retreat from National Cultural Putonomy
6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of Fred 156 6.7 Conclusion	or 'Autonomy as an Ellipty Shell. The Decay of NCAs?
6.7 Conclusion	6.6 Recent Developments—The Decay of Treatments	156
	6.7 Conclusion

III. TERRITORIAL AND NON-TERRITORIAL AUTONOMY IN A GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE

7. NTA as Political Strategy in Central and Eastern Europe David J. Smith	161
 7.1 Introduction 7.2 The Origins and Main Tenets of NTA 7.3 Institutional Legacies in Central and Eastern Europe 7.4 Hungary and Hungarian Minorities in Central Europe 7.5 NTA in Estonia 7.6 NTA in the Russian Federation 7.7 Conclusions 	161 162 164 166 171 173 176
8. Autonomy as Symbolic Production: The Case of Contemporary Russia Alexander Osipov	179
8.1 Introduction	179
 8.2 TA and NTA—Organizational Models or Discursive Frames? 8.3 Symbolic Policies as Production of Meanings 	180 182
 8.4 National Cultural Autonomy in Russia: De-Territorialization of Ethnicity? 8.5 Ethnic Federalism: Territorialization of Ethnicity? 8.6 Autonomy, Ethnicity, and Territoriality as Symbolic Ethnicity 8.7 Conclusion 	184 187 ntities 192 195
9. Indigenous Autonomy in the Americas Alexandra Xanthaki	197
9.1 Introduction 9.2 Definitional Issues 9.3 Territorial Autonomy 9.4 Autonomy and Representation 9.5 Non-Territorial Autonomy: Autonomy in Juridical Ma 9.6 Conclusions	197 199 201 206 atters 210 216
10. Autonomy in South Asia: Evidence for the Emergence of a Regional Custom Joshua Castellino	217
10.1 Introduction 10.2 Manufacturing Boundaries, Accommodating Identit 10.3 The States, Federalism, and Regional Autonomy 10.4 Conclusion	217 ties 219 223 242

Contents

Conclusions: Beyond the Illusion of Ethno-culturally Homogenous Territory	245
Karl Kössler	245
1. Introduction (Non) Territoriality	246
- 11: Discountry Autonomy, and (Noll-) letitorially	252
3 Autonomy and Sovereignty III I listoffed 7 5-7	255
4. Global Practice of Autonomy	268
5. Outlook
	273
Bibliography Index	309