

CONTENTS

The Hamlyn Trust [vi]

The Hamlyn Lectures [ix]

List of figures [xiii]

Preface [xv]

Part I Punishment in contemporary democracies [1]

- 1 'Penal populism' in comparative perspective [3]
- 2 Explaining penal tolerance and severity: criminal justice in the perspective of political economy [55]

Part II Prospects for the future: escaping the prisoners' dilemma [113]

- 3 Inclusion and exclusion in a globalising world: is penal moderation in co-ordinated market economies under threat? [115]
- 4 Confronting the prisoners' dilemma: the room for policy manoeuvre in liberal market economies [170]

Bibliography [207]

Index [225]