

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Notes on Contributors	ix
1 One Historian and his Occupation: Rod Kedward Simon Kitson and Hanna Diamond	1
2 H.R. Kedward: an Oral Profile Martin J. Evans	15
Part I: Collective Trajectories
3 Pacifists into Resisters? A Biographical Approach to Women in Wartime France: the Peace Petitioners of 1938 Siân Reynolds	35
4 'Quite simply, Colonel ...': Gender and The Second World War Luc Capdevila, François Rouquet, Paula Schwartz, Fabrice Virgili and Danièle Voldman	51
5 Conflicting Identities in a Mining Community on Strike 1930–50 Hanna Diamond	59
6 Talk which was not Idle: Rumours in Wartime France Jean-Marie Guillon	73
7 Grammatical Notes: Surviving, and Memories of Jewish Life in Nice, 1939–43 Miranda Pollard	87
8 'Fraternity among listeners'. The BBC and French Resistance: Evidence from Refugees Martyn Cornick	101

- 9 'Meeting Private Ryan': a Franco-American Liberation Community
Hilary Footitt 115

Part II: Individual Trajectories

- 10 Film and Cultural Demobilization after the Great War:
the Two versions of J'Accuse by Abel Gance (1918 and 1938)
John Horne 131
- 11 'Like a wisp of straw amidst the raging elements?'
Daniel Guérin in the Second World War
David Berry 143
- 12 'Mal embarqué bien arrivé': the Strange Story of François Perroux
Julian Jackson 155
- 13 Homecomings: Paulette Bernège, Scientific Management and the Return to the Land in Vichy France
Jackie Clarke 171
- 14 Demography at Liberation: Using History to Forget the Past
K.H Adler 183
- Rod Kedward and his bibliography 195
- Index 199