
Contents

Figures	vii
Tables	ix
Acknowledgments	x
1 Media sociolinguistics	1
Introduction: sociolinguistics and the media	1
The more things change or Meet the ancestors	2
Mobility, creativity and inequality	4
Overview of chapters	7
2 Mapping the terrain	9
Introduction: a new interaction order?	9
Across space and time: the virtual and its archive	10
Mobility, materiality and tethered selves	14
Creativity and agency: Two Crows denies it	21
Methodological and ethical considerations	25
Conclusion: the mediated interaction order	30
3 Affordances and access	33
Introduction: the political economy of digital communication	33
Communicative affordances	34
Digital inequalities: global access and use	38
When resources are plentiful: genres of participation	45
When resources are scarce: communication on a shoestring	48
Conclusion: the times are a-changin'	52
4 Virtual landscapes: practices and ideologies	54
Introduction: multilingualism online	54
Virtual linguistic landscapes: global spaces and local places	55
Practices and ideologies I: symbolizing multilingualism	61
Practices and ideologies II: supporting multilingualism	66

Practices and ideologies III: between bots and subversion	71
Conclusion: new linguistic landscapes, old inequalities	75
5 Intertextuality and author-audiences	77
Introduction: circulating texts	77
Digital spectacles: multimodality at one's fingertips	79
Intertextuality: theoretical reflections	82
Remixes, mash-ups and spoofs	86
Spectacular sounds: language and desire	93
Conclusion: author-audiences and the mobility of texts	98
6 Bakhtin goes mobile	100
Introduction: artful indexicalities	100
Speech and writing	101
Variation and heteroglossia	104
Performance and performativity	110
Stylization: performing heteroglossia	116
Conclusion: a sharply heteroglot era?	120
7 Textpl@y as poetic language	122
Introduction: writing is like a picture	122
Poetic language: focus on form	124
'Your MySpace name MUST contain symbols and incorrect spellings'	130
Multilingual writing: voicing contrasts	136
Between convention and creativity	140
Conclusion: liquid language	144
8 Sociability online: between plaisir and jouissance	146
Introduction: hanging-out revisited	146
The pleasures of plaisir : communities and sociability	147
Carnivals: sociability squared	153
Not safe for work: toward jouissance	157
This is not me ☺: masks as play and deception	160
Conclusion: wild publics	164
9 Conclusion	168
Mobility: people, texts and identities	168
Creativity: uncontrollable	170
Inequality: persistent but changing	171
References	174
Index	194