CONTENTS

Introduction: Why merge action research and professional learning communities? 1

1 What is action research? 5

Description of action research 5
Action research vs. educational research 7
What action research is and is not 13
Professional benefits of action research 14
The process of conducting action research 21
The process in action—an example 25

Step 1: Identifying and limiting the topic 25
Step 2: Gathering information 26
Step 3: Reviewing the related literature 26
Step 4: Developing a research plan 26
Step 5: Implementing the plan and collecting data 27
Step 6: Analyzing the data 27
Step 7: Developing an action plan 28
Step 8: Sharing and communicating the results 28
Step 9: Reflecting on the process 28

Important takeaways from Chapter 1 29

2 Professional learning communities 31

What is a professional learning community? 31
Characteristics of PLCs 34

Shared mission, vision, values, and goals 35
Collaborative culture with a focus on learning 36
Collective inquiry into best practice and current reality 36
Action orientation: Learning by doing 37
Commitment to continuous improvement 38
Orientation focused on results 39

The challenge of a changing culture 40
Teaching and assessing in a PLC 45
Important takeaways from Chapter 2 49

3 The action research model for transformational innovation 51

What is the action research model for transformational innovation? 51
The five components of the model 54

Data-driven educational decision-making 55
Data, data, and more data 57
Thinking differently 58
Collaboration 59
Professional reflection 61

One additional (sub)component . . . 62
Implications of the action research model for transformational innovation 64
Important takeaways from Chapter 3 65

4 Putting it all together: Action research communities 67

TI-in-ed + PLC = ARC 67
Specifying the purposes and functioning of an ARC 68
Roles for teachers in ARCs 71
Roles for building administrators in ARCs 74
Roles for district administrators in ARCs 75
Important takeaways from Chapter 4 77

5 Where do we go from here? Sustaining and growing your ARC 79

Ways to sustain ARCs 79

Link reform efforts to existing practices 80
Focus on "why," then on "how" 80
Align actions with words 81
Be flexible, but firm 81
Build a coalition, but don't wait for unanimity 82
Expect mistakes . . . and learn from them 83
Learn by doing, not by additional training 84
Short-term victories . . . and celebrations 85

Ways to extend ARCs 86

Integrating technology 87
Student engagement 88
Grant funding 89
Mini-grants to ARC participants 90
Systems of incentives 91
Components of personnel evaluation systems 95
Action research/innovation conferences 97

Implementation of an ARC represents a process 99
Important takeaways from Chapter 5 100

6 Using ARCs to deepen professional learning and improve student achievement 103

Action research communities as mechanisms for professional learning 103
Action research communities as mechanisms for improving student achievement 105
Important takeaways from Chapter 6 106

References 109
Appendix: Action research mentor portfolio templates 113
Index 125