Key Concepts	59
Questions and Problems	60

3 The Economic Rationale for Government 61

The Efficiency of Competitive Markets: The Invisible Hand	61
The Two Fundamental Theorems of Welfare Economics 63, The Pareto Efficiency of the Competitive Economy 65, Competition and Innovation 71
Market Failures as a Rationale for Government Activity	71
1. Failure of Competition 71, 2. Public Goods 74, 3. Externalities 75, 4. Incomplete Markets 76, 5. Information Failures 78, 6. Unemployment, Inflation, and Disequilibrium 79, Relationships among Market Failures 80
Redistribution and Merit Goods: Two Further Rationales for Government Activity	80
Two Perspectives on the Role of the Government	81
A Normative Analysis 82, A Positive Analysis 83
Summary	84
Key Concepts	84
Questions and Problems	84
Appendix: Pareto Efficiency and Competitive Equilibrium— A Diagrammatic Analysis	85
Exchange Efficiency 85, Production Efficiency 87, Product-Mix Efficiency 88

4 Welfare Economics: Efficiency versus Equity 90

Efficiency and Distribution Trade-Offs	90
Pareto Efficiency	93

Pareto Efficiency and Individualism	93, Consumer Sovereignty versus Paternalism	94
Income Distribution		94
The Utility Function and Marginal Utility	95, Pareto Efficiency and the Utility Possibilities Schedule	97, Pareto Efficiency and the Compensation Principle	100, The Social Indifference Curve and Income Distribution	102
Social Choices		104
Social Choices in Practice	105, Utilitarianism versus Rawlsianism	106, A Comparison of Utilitarian and Rawlsian Social Welfare Functions	108, Rawls and Egalitarianism	110
Assessing Policy Alternatives		110
Deriving Social Welfare Functions	110, Measuring Inefficiency	112, Making Policy Decisions	115
Summary		115
Key Concepts		116
Questions and Problems		116

Part Two Public Expenditure Theory

5 Public Goods and Publicly Provided Private Goods	119
Definition of Public Goods	119
Goods for Which Rationing Is Unfeasible	120, Goods for Which Rationing Is Undesirable	122
Impure Public Goods	123
Inefficiencies from the Private Provision of Public Goods	124, Goods for Which Exclusion Is Feasible but Costly	126
Publicly Provided Private Goods	127
Rationing Devices for Publicly Provided Goods: Uniform Provision	128, Queuing as a Rationing Device	130
The Changing Balance between Public and Private Provision	131
Efficiency Conditions for Public Goods	131
Demand Curves for Public Goods	132, Pareto Efficiency and Income Distribution	137, Limitations on Income Redistribution and the Efficient Supply of Public Goods	138, Distortionary Taxation and the Efficient Supply of Public Goods	139
Efficient Government as a Public Good	141
Summary	141
Key Concepts	142
Questions and Problems	142
Appendix: An Alternative Exposition of Public-Goods Efficiency—The Leftover Curve	143
6 Public Choice	145
Private Mechanisms for Allocating Resources	146

Public Mechanisms for Allocating Resources	147
The Problem of Preference Revelation 147, The Problem of Aggregating Preferences: Reconciling Differing Views 147
Majority Voting	148
How the Typical Taxpayer Casts His Vote 149, The Median Voter 154, The Inefficiency of the Majority Voting Equilibrium 156, The Voting Paradox 157, Single-Peaked Preferences and the Existence of a Majority Voting Equilibrium 158, Arrow's Impossibility Theorem 160, Further Results on Voting 161, The Two-Party System and the Median Voter 162
Politics and Economics	163
Why Do Individuals Vote? 163, Elections and Special-Interest Groups 164, The Power of Special-Interest Groups 165, The Altruistic Politician? 166, The Persistence of Inefficient Equilibrium 167
Alternative Schemes for Determining the Level of Public Goods	168
Lindahl Equilibrium 168, New Revelation Mechanisms 169
Values and Competence	170
Summary	171
Key Concepts	171
Questions and Problems	171
Appendix: New Revelation Mechanisms	173

7 Public Production and Bureaucracy 177

Public Enterprises and Production in the United States	178
Public Production of Private Goods 179, Public Production of Public Goods and Publicly Provided Private Goods 181, Changing Patterns in Government Production 182
The Rationale for Government Production of Private Goods: Market Failures	184
Natural Monopoly 185, Public Production and Other Market Failures 189
Other Ways for Government to Reconcile Private and Social Interests: Regulation and Taxation	190
Alternative Arrangements for the Production of Publicly Provided Goods	192
Contracting for the Production of Public Services 192, Voucher Schemes 194
Are Public Enterprises Less Efficient?	194
Comparison of Efficiency in the Public and Private Sectors 195
Sources of Inefficiency in the Public Sector	198
Organizational Incentives 199, Individual Incentives 201
The Bureaucracy	202
Differences between Administrative Activities and Other Production Activities 202, What Do Bureaucrats Maximize? 204, Bureaucratic Procedures and Risk Aversion 208, Reform of the Bureaucracy 209
Summary	210

Key Concepts	211
Questions and Problems	211

8 Externalities 213

Externalities: Some Distinctions	214
The Consequences of Externalities	215
Private Solutions to Externalities	216
The Coase Theorem 217, Social Sanctions 218, Failures of Private Solutions 219
Public Remedies for Externalities	220
Fines 221, Regulation 226, Comparison between Regulations and Fines 227, Choice among Fines, Subsidies, and Regulations 229, Problems with Compensation 232, Legal Remedies for Externalities 233
Summary	235
Key Concepts	235
Questions and Problems	235

Part Three Expenditure Programs

9 The Analysis of Expenditure Policy 237

Need for Program	238
Market Failures	238
Alternative Forms of Government Intervention	239
Higher Education: An Example 240, The Importance of Particular Design Features 241
Efficiency Consequences	242
Private-Sector Responses to Government Programs 242, Income and Substitution Effects and Induced Inefficiency 243
Distributional Consequences	246
Evaluating the Distributional Consequences 248, Fairness and Distribution 249
Equity-Efficiency Trade-Offs	250
Program Evaluation	251
Political Process	252
Summary	254
Key Concepts	254
Questions and Problems	254

10 Cost-Benefit Analysis 256

Private Cost-Benefit Analysis	257
Present Discounted Value 257

Social Cost-Benefit Analysis	259
Valuing Nonmarketed Commodities	259
Cost Effectiveness	264
Shadow Prices and Market Prices	266
Discount Rate for Social Cost-Benefit Analysis	266
The Evaluation of Risk	270
Distributional Considerations	271
Distributional Weights	272, The Effect of Public Programs on Measures of Inequality	274
Summary	277
Key Concepts	278
Questions and Problems	278

11 Health Care

280

An Outline of U.S. Government Medical Programs	282
Direct Assistance	284, Tax Expenditures	284
Rationale for Government's Role in Health-Care Financing, Provision, and Regulation	287
Inequality and Government Financing of Medical Services	287, Market Failures	288, Why Medical Markets Do Not Satisfy the Standard Conditions for Well-Behaved Competitive Markets	289
Health Insurance	296
The Importance of Health Insurance	296, The Consequences of Health Insurance	297, Moral Hazard	299
Reforms in the Provision and Financing of Health Care	300
Reducing the Extent of Insurance Coverage	300, Reforming the Manner in Which Hospitals Are Reimbursed	301, Regulation of Physicians	302, Changing the Organization of the Medical Industry	302, Extending Benefits to the Uninsured	304, Covering Catastrophic Medical Expenses	305
Summary	306
Key Concepts	307
Questions and Problems	307

12 Defense

308

The Organization of Defense	311
Civilian Control	312, Defense Procurement	313, The Draft versus the Volunteer Army	315
Cost-Effectiveness Analysis	316
Multiple Objectives	317, Alternative Scenarios	318, Trade-Offs in Allocating Defense Dollars	318, Some Problems in Allocating Defense Expenditures	319
How Much Is Enough?	320
The Value of Marginal Analysis	321, Deterrence and the Arms Race	322

Summary	323
Key Concepts	324
Questions and Problems	324
13 Social Insurance	325
The Structure of the Social Security System	326
Social Security, Private Insurance, and Market Failures	330
High Transaction Costs 331, Lack of Indexing: The Inability of Private Markets to Insure Social Risks 331, Adverse Selection, Differential Risks, and the Cost of Insurance 332, Moral Hazard and Social Security 333, Retirement Insurance as a Merit Good 334
Problems Facing the Social Security System	334
The Causes of the 1983 Crisis in Social Security 335, The 1983 Response to the Crisis in Social Security 337, Current Equity Issues in the Design of Social Security 339, Current Efficiency Issues 341
Alternative Perspectives	344
Summary	344
Key Concepts	345
Questions and Problems	345
14 Welfare Programs and the Redistribution of Income	346
Welfare Programs and Social Insurance	348
Cash versus In-Kind Redistribution	349
Inefficiencies from In-Kind Redistribution 349, Inefficiencies from Subsidized Food Stamps 352, Incentive Effects of Eligibility Standards 354, Should the Government Interfere with Individuals' Free Choices? 355, Housing 355
Categorical versus Broad-based Aid	356
Efficiency and Equity Issues 357, The Negative Income Tax 358
How Effective Has Our Present Welfare System Been in Reducing Poverty?	360
The Paradox of Unchanged Inequality 361, Poverty among Children 363, Recent Reform Initiatives 363
Summary	364
Key Concepts	365
Questions and Problems	365
15 Education	367
The Structure of Education in the United States	368
Federal Tax Subsidies to Private and Public Schools 370
Why Is Education Publicly Provided and Publicly Financed?	371
Is There a Market Failure? 372, Distribution 372, Imperfect Capital Markets 373

Current Issues 373
How Should Public Educational Funds Be Allocated? 374, Reforming the Financing of Education 376, Public Support for Private Schools 379, Aid to Higher Education 380
Summary 382
Key Concepts 383
Questions and Problems 383

Part Four Taxation: Theory

16 Taxation: An Introduction 385

Background 386
Changing Patterns of Taxation in the United States 387, Designing an Income Tax System 388
The Five Desirable Characteristics of Any Tax System 390
Economic Efficiency 390, Administrative Costs 393, Flexibility 395, Political Responsibility 396, Fairness 399
Summary 408
Key Concepts 409
Questions and Problems 409

17 Who Really Pays the Tax: Tax Incidence 411

Incidence of Taxes in the United States 413
Tax Incidence in Competitive Markets 415
The Effect of Elasticity 418, Does It Matter Whether the Tax Is Levied on Consumers or Producers? 419, Analysis of the Effect of the Tax at the Level of the Firm 420, Tax Incidence and the Demand and Supply for Labor 421, Taxation of Inelastic Factors and Commodities 421
Tax Incidence in Monopolistic versus Competitive Environments 423
Relationship between the Change in the Price and the Tax 425, Ad Valorem versus Specific Taxes 425
Tax Incidence in Oligopolies 426
Equivalent Taxes 427
Income Tax and Value-Added Tax 427, Equivalence of Consumption and Wage Taxes 427, Equivalence of Lifetime Consumption and Lifetime Income Taxes 429
Factors Affecting Tax Incidence Analysis 429
Tax Incidence under Partial and General Equilibrium 430, Short-run versus Long-run Effects 430, Open versus Closed Economy 431, Associated Policy Changes 431
Summary 432
Key Concepts 433
Questions and Problems 433

18 Taxation and Economic Efficiency: Consumption 437

- Effect of Taxes Borne by Consumers 438
 - Present and Future Consumption 441, The Consumer Surplus Approach to Deadweight Loss 445, Measuring the Deadweight Loss 446*
- Effect of Taxes Borne by Producers 449
- Effects of Taxes Borne Partly by Consumers, Partly by Producers 452
- Summary 453
- Key Concepts 453
- Questions and Problems 453
- Appendix: Measuring Deadweight Loss 454

19 Taxation and Economic Efficiency: Labor Supply 456

- Effects of Taxation on the Quantity of Labor Supplied 456
 - Relationship between Labor and Consumption 458, Income and Substitution Effects of Taxation 459, Distortionary Effects of Wage Taxation 462, Distortion with Inelastic Labor Supply 464, Taxes and Female Labor Force Participation 466, Retirement Decision 468*
- Measuring the Effects of Taxation on Labor Supplied 468
 - Surveys 468, Statistical Techniques Using Market Data 469, Experiments 471*
- Other Dimensions to Labor Supply 473
 - Effort 474, Job Choice 474, Education 475, Labor Supply and Other Household Decisions 475, Form of Compensation 476*
- Summary 476
- Key Concepts 476
- Questions and Problems 476

20 Optimal Taxation 478

- The Fallacy of Counting Distortions 478
- The Second-Best Fallacy 479
- Optimal Redistributive Income Taxation 479
 - Why Impose Distortionary Taxes? 480, The Trade-off between Inequality and Inefficiency 480, Why Does More Progressivity Imply More Deadweight Loss? 481, A Diagrammatic Analysis of the Deadweight Loss of Progressive Taxation 483, Relationship between Deadweight Loss and Redistribution 485, The Utility Possibilities Curve and Distortionary Taxation 486, Rawlsian Taxation 488, Relationship between Progressivity and Government Expenditures 489, A Numerical Calculation of the Optimal Flat-Rate Tax 489*
- The Optimal Structure of Income Taxes 489
 - Labor Supply Elasticities and Tax Rates 490, General Equilibrium Effects 493*

Redistribution through Commodity Taxes 493
The Inefficiency of Commodity Taxation 493, Further Arguments against Differential Commodity Taxation 494, Ramsey Taxes 494, Interest Income Taxation and Commodity Taxation 498

Optimal Taxation and Production Efficiency 498

The Dependence of Optimal Tax Structure on the Set of Available Taxes 501

Summary 502

Key Concepts 503

Questions and Problems 503

Appendix: Deriving Ramsey Taxes on Commodities 503

Part Five Taxation in the United States

21 The Personal Income Tax 507

An Outline of the U.S. Income Tax 507

Principles behind the U.S. Income Tax 510
The Income-based Principle and the Haig-Simons Definition 510, The Progressivity Principle 512, The Family-based Principle 513, The Annual Measure of Income Principle 514

Practical Problems in Implementing an Income Tax System 515
