

Contents

Preface	vii
SECTION I
Survey	I
1 Applied linguistics
The need for applied linguistics	3
Examples and procedures	5
The scope of applied linguistics	7
Linguistics and applied linguistics: a difficult relationship	9
2 Prescribing and describing: popular and academic views of 'correctness'
Children's language at home and school	12
Description versus prescription	15
An applied linguistics perspective	18
3 Languages in the contemporary world
Language and languages	21
Attitudes to languages	22
The languages of nations: boundaries and relationships	23
The growth of English	25
English and Englishes	26
Native speakers	28
English as a Lingua Franca (ELF)	29
4 English Language Teaching (ELT)
Grammar-translation language teaching	31
The direct method	33
'Natural' language learning	34
The communicative approach	35

5 Language and communication
Knowing a language	40
Linguistic competence	41
Communicative competence	42
The influence of communicative competence	46
6 Context and culture
Systematizing context: discourse analysis	50
Culture	52
Translation, culture, and context	55
Own language: rights and understanding	57
Teaching culture	57
7 Persuasion and poetics; rhetoric and resistance
Literary stylistics	61
Language and persuasion	63
Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA)	64
8 Past, present, and future directions
Early orientation	69
Subsequent changes	69
Second-Language Acquisition (SLA)	71
Corpus linguistics	73
Being applied	74
Critical Applied Linguistics (CALx)	75
'Post-modern' applied linguistics	77
A harder future: mediation	78
SECTION 2
Readings	81
SECTION 3
References	115
SECTION 4
Glossary	125