
Contents

Preface to the Paperback Edition	7
Notes on Contributors	9
Introduction	11
Part I Contexts of Mentoring	21
1. The Early History of School-based Teacher Training Phil Gardner	21
2. Initial Training as a Case of Postmodern Development: Some Implications for Mentoring Margaret Wilkin	37
3. Seeking a Comparative Perspective: A Case Study from Australia Tony d'Arbon	54
Part II Conceptions of Mentoring	69
4. Learning to Teach and Models of Mentoring Trisha Maynard and John Furlong	69
5. Teachers' Expertise and Models of Mentoring Donald McIntyre and Hazel Hagger	86
6. The Impersonation of Wisdom Richard Smith and Geof Alred	103
7. A Model of Teaching and its Implications for Mentoring Richard Dunne and Gareth Harvard	117

MENTORING

8. Reflective Mentoring and the New Partnership 130
David Frost

Part III Realities of Mentoring 147

9. Are Mentor Teachers Teacher Educators? 147
Sharon Feiman-Nemser, Michelle B Parker and Kenneth Zeichner
10. Mentoring for Teacher Development: Possibilities and Caveats 166
Bob Elliott and James Calderhead
11. The Wish of Odysseus? New Teachers' Receptiveness to Mentoring 190
Les Tickle
12. Correlation in Mentoring: An Enquiry-based approach 206
Peter Lucas and Chris True
13. Issues in the Selection and Training of Mentors for School-based Primary Initial Teacher Training 220
Pie Corbett and Diana Wright
- Index 234