

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
About the Author	xiii
Chapter 1: Executive Power in Russian Politics	1
What Does Executive Leadership Mean in the Russian Context?	3
Authoritarian Modernizers: The Prototype	3
Characteristics of Authoritarian Modernizers	7
What Can We Learn from Past “Executives”?	12
Earlier Authoritarian Modernizers	12
The Brezhnev Era: The Long Calm before the Storm	19
The Uncertain Interregnum: Andropov and Chernenko	21
Chapter 2: The Gorbachev Presidency	25
The Starting Point: What Gorbachev Intended	26
Gorbachev’s Rise to Power	28
From General Secretary to President	31
The Reform Agenda: Politics and Policy	32
Glasnost	33
The Economy: Perestroika	33
Judicial Reform	35
Foreign Policy	36
Political Reform: Democratization	40
Democratization of the Communist Party	41
The Gorbachev Presidency	43
The Presidency of the Russian Federation	45
The Battle of the Presidents	46
Gorbachev as an Authoritarian Modernizer	51
Chapter 3: The Yeltsin Presidency, 1991–1993	55
Yeltsin’s Path to Moscow	55
From Outcast to President	59

The President Becomes a President	61
A Real President Gets a Real Nation	64
Personal Rivalries	65
Economic Reforms as a Political Issue	66
Yeltsin's Economic Reforms: Phase I (1991–1993)	68
The Reform of the Party-State	69
National Identity and the Union Treaty	70
Judicial Reform	73
The President and the Legislature	74
Foreign Policy	81
Yeltsin as an Authoritarian Modernizer:
A Preliminary Assessment	83
Chapter 4: Yeltsin and Russia Reborn	87
The Presidency and the Legislature	91
Judicial Reform	95
The 1993 Duma Elections	96
The 1995 Duma Elections	99
The 1996 Presidential Election	102
The Second Term: From Victory to Resignation	105
Yeltsin's Economic Reforms: Phase II (1994–1999)	109
Foreign Policy	111
The First Chechen War	113
The December 1999 Duma Elections	114
Yeltsin's Surprise Resignation	117
Yeltsin as an Authoritarian Modernizer:
A Final Assessment	118
Chapter 5: Putin I, 2000–2008	121
The 2000 Presidential Election	122
Vladimir Putin: From Spy Novels to the Kremlin	123
The Putin Formula	125
The Putin Presidency Emerges from Yeltsin's Shadow	134
Outside the Garden Ring: "Managing" the New Democracy	140
The Presidency and the Legislature: The 2003 Duma Elections	141
Judicial Reform	142
The 2004 Presidential Election	143
The Rules and the Game Change	145
The Run-Up to the 2008 Presidential Election	146
The 2007 Duma Elections	148
Putin's Economic Reforms	150
Foreign Policy	152
The Second Chechen War	154
The 2008 Presidential Election	155
Putin as an Authoritarian Modernizer	157

Chapter 6: The “Tandem”	163
Dmitry Medvedev: Putin’s Friend from Leningrad	166
Governing the Nation in Tandem	168
Medvedev and Putin in Tandem	172
Factional Realities	173
Medvedev and Economic Reform	174
Medvedev and Political Modernization	177
Judicial Reform	180
Foreign Policy	181
The Russian-Georgian War	184
Medvedev and the Legislature: The 2011 Duma Elections	186
The Duma Election and Voting Fraud	188
The 2012 Presidential Election	190
Election Results	197
Medvedev as an Authoritarian Modernizer	198
Chapter 7: Putin II, 2012–	203
The “New” Cabinet	204
Putin II: Old and New Realities	205
Maintaining the Balance within the Garden Ring	206
Controlling the Opposition	208
The Economy: Prosperity and Modernity	209
Foreign Policy	212
Crimea and Ukraine	214
Russian Foreign Policy and the World	220
The Three Arenas of Russian Politics	222
Inside the Garden Ring: Factional Politics in Putin II	222
A Note on the Siloviki	228
Outside the Garden Ring: Politics in the Rest of the Russian Federation	230
The Authoritarian Modernizer Revisited	231
The Legal System and the Courts	233
Connecting Those Inside and Outside the Garden Ring	235
Political Parties	236
Civil Society	239
Control of the Media	240
The Leadership Cult as a Connection	241
Putin as an Authoritarian Modernizer	242
Chapter 8: The Future(s) of Russian Politics	251
The Future of the Russian Presidency(ies)	252
What Will Drive Change?	256
Changes in the Nature of Factional Politics	257
Changes in the Nature of Electoral Politics at the National, Regional, and Local Levels	263

Politics Moves to the Street: A Color Revolution or Moscow Spring	276
What Is a Color Revolution?	277
A Russian Color Revolution?	279

Index	285
-------	-----