

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	v
Glossary	xi

Chapters

1. Is there a British Muslim Identity?	1
The context	2
The issues	6
Muslim identity and 'native' British converts to Islam	14
Young British Muslims	17

Part I. ARRIVING, 1800–1945

2. Muslim Migration and Settlement in Britain before 1945	24
Early Muslim migration to Britain: visitors, sailors
and settlers	26
Imperial connections	27
Seafaring sojourners	34
Muslim migration to Britain, 1914–45	40
Fluctuating fortunes	40
New opportunities	46
3. Muslim Engagement with British Society up to the First World War	52
Contact, channels of communication and early arrivals
in Britain	53
Carving out a niche: interaction during the early nineteenth century	57
Changing British attitudes towards Muslims	59
Measures to administer relief to 'deserving cases'	65
Muslim life in late Victorian Britain	68
Encounters with the opposite sex	73
The class factor: the case of the Munshi and the Court	76

Perfidious Turks and despotic Orientals	80
Quilliam's Liverpool Muslim congregation	82
Pan-Islam and the First World War	84
4. 'Being Muslim' in Early Twentieth-Century Britain	92
Social engagement during the interwar years	92
Relations in the workplace	109
Demanding the rights of citizenship	107
5. 'Weaving the Cultural Strands Together': institutionalising Islam in early twentieth-century Britain	121
Quilliam and the Liverpool Mosque and Institute	121
The Working Mosque and the Muslim Mission	126
Process of institutionalisation among the Muslim communities of Cardiff and South Shields	135
Sheikh Abdullah Ali al-Hakimi and the Alawi tariqa	137

Part II. STAYING—1945 ONWARDS

6. Post-Second-World-War Muslim Migration to Britain	145
Phases of postwar migration	145
Chain migration and the role of pioneers	148
'Push' factors	152
The case of postwar Yemeni settlers	156
Government intervention and immigration controls	157
The 1970s onwards	159
7. Contours of Muslim Life in Britain since 1945	166
The size of the British Muslim population	169
Geographical distribution	172
Households and housing	179
Demographic characteristics: age and gender distribution	181
Education, qualifications and skills background	183
Jobs: employment patterns	188
Problems of discrimination	201
8. Assimilation, Integration, Accommodation: Aspects of Muslim Engagement with British Society since 1945	205
Patterns and processes of interaction	206
The context of majority-minority encounters	207
Degrees of British Muslim assimilation	214
The generation gap: British Muslims and youth culture	217

Segregated leisure and sport?	224
Matters of law	226
Muslim political engagement in Britain	234
9. Muslim Women and Families in Britain	252
The impact of migration	253
Muslim women and family relationships	258
Migration, Muslim women and waged work	266
Changing dynamics in British Muslim families	276
Muslim women resist sources of oppression	282
The changing position of Muslim women in British society	293
10. British Muslims and Education: Issues and Prospects	298
Early history	298
Muslims and 'under performance' in education	302
Multicultural education and Muslims—1970 to the mid-1980s	312
Muslim education—from the mid-1980s to 2001	317
The struggle for voluntary-aided Muslim schools	324
Muslim education in the 1990s	334
11. The Evolution of Muslim Organisation in Britain since the Second World War	340
Early history	341
Laying the foundation stones: Britain's network of mosques and Muslim organisation	343
The evolution of Sufi orders in Britain	356
Umbrella organisations from the 1980s onwards	360
Organisation of welfare, social and cultural services	366
Muslim youth organisation	369
Organising Muslim women	374
Institutionalisation of Muslim minority sects in Britain: the Ismailis	380
12. Conclusion: British Muslim Identities	389
Bibliography	407
Index	425